Ike's Public Housing Plan Pared By House Appropriations Group

Four-Year Program Cut to Two Years, Funds Shaved

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's plans for a four-year, 140,000-unit public housing program were all but scuttled today by a House Appropriations Committee recommendation.

The GOP-dominated committee asked the House to cut the program to an estimated 35,000 units and to terminate it in two years.

Its recommendation was contained in a $5,566,118,763 omnibus appropriation bill sent to the House floor for debate next week. The total amount in the bill is $363,604,837 less than the President wanted—a cut of 6.2 per cent. It is $375,168,400 below what the same agencies received this year. The bill carries funds for the fiscal year starting July 1.

A deep cut was made in funds recommended for the Atomic Energy Commission, but Rep. Phillips (R-Calif) said no reductions in the AEC's construction and weapons program are involved. Phillips is chairman of the subcommittee which wrote the bill.

A big reduction was recommended for the Veterans Administration, too, plus new restrictions on the Tennessee Valley Authority's activities.

'Not Satisfactory'

These were overshadowed by the committee recommendations for public housing. No formal explanation was offered, other than slum clearance is the only justification for the program. Phillips said the public housing program has not worked out satisfactorily.

The appropriations committee put a limit of 20,000 on the new units that may be started during the coming fiscal year, and said the entire program should be wound up with an estimated 15,000 additional units in the following year.

The 35,000 units approved, the committee said, are those for which the government already has legally committed itself and for which it has made "binding" contracts.

The committee cut the Atomic Energy Commission's budget from $1,342,000,000 to $1,189,960,700, a slash of $152,039,300 but an increase of $132,179,700 over funds given the AEC this year.

Big VA Pension Cut

Biggest cut in the Veterans' Administration budget was 100 millions lopped from the $2,535,000,000 requested for pension and compensation payments. Much of this may be restored later. Only yesterday the House voted to give the VA 215 million of the 300 million cut from the compensation and pension fund for the present fiscal year.

The $3,779,432,800 recommended for all Veterans' Administration operations is $113,040,200 below presidential requests. It contemplates the use of 127,000 beds next year in veterans' hospitals, domiciliary facilities, and institutions under contract to the VA.

Mayor Gives Reply

Bingo Legal Here, Lausche Is Told in Answer to Letters

A third letter in as many weeks concerning complaints of bingo games in Marion was received by Mayor Harold F. Robinson Thursday from Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

In announcing receipt of the letter today, Mayor Robinson also released the text of his reply in which the position of city officials concerning bingo games is explained in detail.

Mayor Robinson wrote that under Marion city laws, bingo games for charitable purposes may be licensed. He listed five organizations in the city which hold licenses.

The letter from Gov. Lausche received yesterday included two unsigned letters carrying Marion datelines which apparently were written following a story in The Star last week concerning the governor's first letter on complaints of bingo in the city.

Both letters written to the governor—one signed only "A Taxpayer," the other "A Staunch Supporter"—included clippings of the newspaper article.

GOV. LAUSCHE wrote, "From the enclosed clipping, I observe that you are of the opinion that, since the letters of complaint bore no signatures, you were not in a position to investigate the matter."

In the first letter from the governor he included a copy of a letter purportedly written by a Marion mother of six who claimed her husband and oldest son spent all their earnings at bingo games. She said they each lost at least $5 a night in the games.

NAME OF THE writer of this letter was deleted in the copy sent to Mayor Robinson and because of this Mayor Robinson said he nor the police could fully investigate the claim.

In the letter received by Mayor Robinson yesterday, Gov. Lausche continued, "To make my position clear to you—I anticipate that you will check into these matters and ascertain whether the evils about which the complaints have been made do or do not exist.

"If you find they do exist, action should be taken to terminate them."

IN HIS REPLY to the governor, Mayor Robinson called attention to the Marion City Code, Section 10.20 which "provides in effect for the licensing and taxing of charity bingo." This ordinance was passed in 1947 by City Council and since that time five licenses have been issued by the city auditor's office, Mayor Robinson explained to the governor.

He also called attention to an Ohio Supreme Court ruling made in November, 1953, on a Columbus city ordinance outlawing bingo in that city. Mayor Robinson said he asked City Solicitor George Piacentino for an opinion of the effect of that ruling on the Marion city ordinance. Piacentino advised that the type of ordinance in effect here was not in question in the Supreme Court case and that neither the State Legislature nor the Marion City Council had any penal provision in the laws that would pertain to charity bingo, Mayor Robinson explained.

"FROM COMMUNICATIONS submitted to you, which were the basis for your letters to me, apparently issue is made that bingo is played every night of the week," Mayor Robinson wrote to the governor.

To the extent that the five organizations which have been granted city bingo licenses play on various nights of the week this "al-

Hearing Slated On Ordinance Banning Cards

Marion County Common Pleas Court today set April 16 as the date of the hearing of an injunction suit filed two weeks ago by seven Marion businessmen against the city of Marion attacking the anti-card playing ordinance recently enacted by City Council.

The date was set by Judge Paul D. Smith this morning after hearing a motion by Frank Wiedemann, counsel for the businessmen, requesting a temporary restraining order against the city.

After hearing arguments from both Wiedemann and George Piacentino, city solicitor, Judge Smith said he would take the matter under advisement, neither granting nor refusing to grant the injunction at this time.

Claiming that the ordinance, which became effective March 13, was unconstitutional in that it prohibited rather than regulated card playing, Wiedemann told the Court that it was putting the plaintiffs out of business, and that it infringed on their property rights. The petition claimed that card-

Senate Votes Billion-Dollar Sales Tax Cut

Goes to Senate-House Conference Monday; Little Alteration Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—A cut of about a billion dollars yearly on a wide range of federal excise or sales taxes seemed assured today with Senate passage of a $1,034,000,000 reduction bill.

The cuts will take effect next Thursday.

The Senate approved the bill last night 76-8 after two days of lively debate filled with political overtones in a congressional election year.

It was sent to a Senate-House conference, which cannot take place before next Monday afternoon, since both branches are in recess until then.

Wednesday Deadline

But Sen. Millikin (R-Colo), head of the Senate negotiators, said in an interview today he is confident the conferees will act speedily and rush the measure to President Eisenhower. The deadline for the President's signature is next Wednesday midnight.

Both branches voted identical cuts on many items, so they are certain to be in the final compromise version.

They include furs, jewelry, handbags and luggage, cosmetics, sporting goods, admission tickets to movies costing over 60 cents, trans-bus-plane passenger fares, telephone bills, telegraph charges, mechanical pens and pencils, lighters and electric light bulbs.

Millikin and other Republican leaders predicted the President will sign the bill, although the administration urged against the excise cuts.

Will Boost Deficit

The billion-dollar loss in revenue will add that much to the $2,900,000,000 deficit already forecast for the new financial year starting July 1.

The bill also extends for a year, to April 4, 1955, a series of 1951 increases in major excises. These will bring in $1,077,000,000 in added revenue. But the President had counted on this in figuring his next year's budget. Involved are automobiles and trucks, gasoline, tobacco, liquor and beer.

As the House passed the measure, it cut a variety of excises by 912 million dollars. The Senate eliminated a few House reductions, but made other big ones of its own.

Two Major Items

The House voted reductions for admissions to horse and dog tracks and to night clubs and other cabarets, and for club dues, safety deposit boxes and pistols. The Senate rejected these. They will have to be threshed out in conference.

The two biggest items in dispute will be a 100-million-dollar slash voted by the Senate on such household appliances as refrigerators, stoves and electric irons and a 65-million-dollar cut through wiping

Tornado Scare Passes; Wind Damage Light

Emergency Unit Is Alerted, City Escapes Storm, One Man Hurt

Marion was thrown into a state of tension yesterday when tornado warnings for Ohio and Indiana included this area.

Schools were closed in the afternoon, gas and water valves closed in homes, civil defense forces alerted, and many people remained off the streets as residents prepared for a tornado which never came.

Difficult Prediction

The warnings had resulted from atmospheric conditions very comparable to those which caused havoc-making tornadoes in Mississippi. Weathermen said that a tornado is a small but vicious storm. It is impossible to predict exactly where it will strike. Therefore storm warning went out in a wide area running southwest to northeast across the state. The atmospheric conditions preceded a cold front moving into this area.

By 4 p.m. the danger had passed. All Marion saw was strong wind gusts ranging up to 42 miles per hour and a little rain.

Conference Held

The schools were closed and the children sent home in the afternoon. Lester L. Dickey, superintendent of schools, reported this morning that at first it was thought the storm would strike here early in the afternoon, if at all, but later warning extended the danger period to late afternoon.

After a conference with police, it was decided that the children would be in a perilous position

Gets 1-20 Years

Elswick Sentenced For Manslaughter

Bert Elswick, 37-year-old Marionite, was sentenced to one to 20 years in the Ohio Penitentiary late Thursday afternoon after a Common Pleas jury of eight men and four women, deliberating three hours and 45 minutes, found him guilty of manslaughter in the Dec. 5, 1953 slaying of his wife, Violet, at the Green Camp village dump.

Return of the jury's verdict and the sentencing of Elswick climaxed a three-day trial on first-degree murder charges that attracted an average of 40 to 50 spectators in the Courtroom.

The jury received the case shortly after 11:30 a.m. Thursday after Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith charged them telling them they had five possible verdicts to return: first-degree murder, first-degree murder with recommendation of mercy, second-degree murder, manslaughter, or acquittal.

After the jury had the case for only a few minutes, the court received word of the possible tornado predicted for the central Ohio area. Judge Smith, Prosecuting Attooney Ralph E. Carhart, and Defense Counsel Bernard C. Moloney discussed the situation and were debating whether the court should dismiss the jurors.

Sheriff Glenn Obneour reported this morning that Elswick would be taken to the Penitentiary as soon as commitment papers were received. They are expected Monday.

MRS. CORDELL HULL DIES

Appliance Seller Clipped By Swindle at Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Police hunted today for a "nice looking" couple—with two children and a dog—who rented a home two weeks ago, collected thousands of dollars worth of home appliances on $5 deposits, and then disappeared.

Douglas T. Forrest, a Hoover Co salesman, swore out a warrant and police estimated around $5,000 worth of appliances were missing from a number of firms.

Included were television sets, vacuum sweepers and sewing machines.

Move To Quiet McCarthy Row Hits Opposition

Gone Too Far To Be Dropped Now, Mundt Declares in Interview

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigations subcommittee members said today they hoped to pick by nightfall a special counsel for the proposed public investigation of a row involving Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis) and top Army officials.

Reported behind-the-scenes maneuvering to head off such a washing of linens, for which big-scale television and other coverage is planned, ran head on into opposition from a majority of the subcommittee's seven members.

Too Far To Be Dropped

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), named to preside at the televised public hearings, and three Democratic members of the group said in separate interviews the fight has gone too far to be dropped—that the bitter charges involved require a full public scrutiny to show where the truth lies.

They went ahead with plans to choose a special counsel and to complete the writing of the special ground rules which an investigation involving the group's own chairman and staff members would require.

At issue are:

1. An Army report alleging that McCarthy and Roy M. Cohn, the subcommittee's chief counsel exerted pressures on the Pentagon in efforts to get favored treatment for a drafted associate, Pvt. G. David Schine.

2. McCarthy's countercharge that Secretary of the Army Stevens and John G. Adams, assistant Army counsel, used "blackmail" tactics in efforts to block the subcommittee's investigations of Reds in the Army. McCarthy said Adams considered Schine "a hostage."

McCarthy, Cohn, Stevens and Adams have all denied the charges against them.

Possible Resignations

There have been persistent reports of quiet maneuvering to test whether the resignation of Cohn and Adams, and perhaps of Stevens too—if these could be arranged—might be enough to head off the public hearings.

McCarthy, Cohn, Stevens and Adams all are among those expected to testify if the hearings are held.

It was learned through interviews the controversy was discussed by some senators in the presence of White House aides at a private luncheon yesterday in the office of Mark Trice, secretary of the Senate.

Sen. Malone (R-Nev) said he for one had discussed the case with others after McCarthy left the room, but has "no knowledge" of reports one senator suggested that resignation of Cohn and Adams might avert an investigation.

Among the guests were Senators McCarthy, Mundt, Malone, Welker (R-Idaho) and John M. Butler (R-Md); James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary; Wilton Persons, top White House liaison man to the Capitol; and two of Persons' aides, I. Jack Martin and Jerry Morgan. Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, said he attended but only briefly.

2 Jewel Cases Stolen From Bucyrus Store

Contained $30,000 In Sample Diamonds, Salesman Tells Police

BUCYRUS — A New York diamond salesman told police here that two sample cases containing $30,000 worth if diamonds were stolen from the Dunlap Jewelry Store Thursday afternoon.

The salesman, Harvey Feder, said he stopped about 1:30 p.m. at the store, which is located half a block south of the business district, and left two bags containing $30,000 worth of unmounted diamonds, engagement rings and watches. He said he put the bags behind the counter at the front of the small store while he went next door to the Roehr House for lunch. When he returned at 2:40 p.m., the bags were gone.

Harry Dunlap, 70, who owns a partnership in the store with his son, James, was alone in the store during the salesman's absence. He said there had been only one customer in the store during that time. A stranger, he said, had

Officials Study Army's Offer Of Sewer Line

City, County Consider Proposal for Taking Facility in Plant Area

A proposal made Thursday by the Army that the city and county acquire a sewer located in the Scioto ordnance area was taken under consideration by Mayor Harold F. Robinson and county commissioners.

Coming to Marion to make the proposal on behalf of the Army was Lt. Col. Carson Barklow of Ft. Meade, Md.

The sewer under consideration begins at Church St., extends to the ordnance plant grounds, and then proceeds to the Marion Engineer Depot. Using it at the present time are the depot, Marion Training School, and DeKalb Agricultural Association.

In addition to Lt. Col. Barklow, Robinson, and Commissioners Howard McCurdy, Ray Reidenbaugh and Luther Mitchell, those attending the meeting included County Engineer Reed Ours and Deputy Engineer Walter Johnson, Marion Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrest, and H. E. Webster, executive secretary of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

Lt. Col. Barklow was here also to discuss the progress of negotiations between the Army and Marion Water Co. for purchase of water facilities in the ordnance area owned by the Army.

French Report 131 Reds Killed

Casualty List Climbs In Mop-Up Operation

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — The French reported they inflicted 131 casualties on the communist-led Vietminh today, but only 15 of those killed were on the bloodied battlefield at Dien Bien Phu, the surrounded French Union fortress in northwest Indochina.

A mopup operation in the Red River delta accounted for 116 of the enemy killed, wounded and captured. The fighting took place near Sontay, center of a big U.S.-financed agricultural project to aid the Vietnamese.

At Dien Bien Phu, the Vietminh attacked French troops in the abandoned village of Ban Ong, about four miles south of the heart of the main fortified position. The French counterattacked early today, routing the rebels.

Crash Near Napoleon Fatal to Detroit Couple

NAPOLEON, Ohio (AP)—A Detroit man and woman were killed last night in a two-car collision at the intersection of Ohio 66 and U.S. 6, 9½ miles west of Napoleon.

The State Highway Patrol identified the pair as Robert Lance, 50, driver of one car, and his passenger, Helen Lynch Greenwald, 61.

Both First-Time Winners

Holden, Hepburn Capture Top Oscars

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—William Holden, the movies' favorite average guy, and Audrey Hepburn, its favorite princess, won Hollywood's top acting Oscars last night.

The movie "From Here to Eternity," tying the all-time record of eight awards, was named the best picture of 1953 at the 26th annual Academy Awards presentation.

Wanted More Time

Holden, who played a semi-heel in the movie "Stalag 17," was both happy and upset about his first Oscar. He was happy, of course, for winning the top honor but said he was "very upset" for having to hurry his acceptance speech due to the television time commitments.

"They told me to say 'Thank you' and get off," he said. "I wanted to give credit to Billy Wilder (the director of 'Stalag 17') for having so much faith in me. I think they could have held off the closing commercial just a little longer so that everyone could know how much Wilder was responsible."

Holden, a youthful 36, said he "was pretty leery" before the presentation of the award.

AUDREY HEPBURN
Voted Best Actor, Actress of 1953 by Film Academy

"I thought Burt Lancaster would get it."

He admitted that his role in "Stalag" was one that he wasn't particularly thrilled with during the making of the picture.

"But I see the light now. In fact, I'm holding it," he said, raising his golden Oscar.

Miss Hepburn, in stage makeup for her Broadway role of a water nymph in the play "Ondine," received her award in the New York portion of the show. Her first movie starring role was that of a princess on the loose in "Roman Holiday."

Visibly touched, the 24-year-old ex-ballerina said, "I am truly, truly grateful." She said it like she really meant it.

"It's too much," she said. "It's like being given something to wear that you have to grow into. Something to work toward."

Someone asked, What next?

"I still have the same goal," the excited actress replied, smiling.

"To be a great actress?"

"Yes, to be a really good one."

So she would be free in time for the announcement, the management of her stage play had advanced curtain time 10 minutes and cut the intermission. In costume, she hurried to the NBC Center Theater at Radio City with a police motorcycle escort. She made a quick change of clothing there.

Admits Nervousness

She said she had hoped—but she was also afraid that if she won and had to say a few words she would fluff her lines.

JAMES 4:17—"To him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin."

James, the author of this epistle, is said to have been a very practical man, and this epistle is filled with many practical injunctions. In this chapter, he calls our attention to the brevity of life and the uncertainty as to the time of death, then it is when he makes this striking statement, "To him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin."

This statement places the responsibility squarely on the Christian of whom James was speaking. To him that is aware that he ought to do good and fails, it places a penalty on him. He is hampering the spread of the good news to others and is therefore guilty of the sin of omission.

We are told that Jesus "went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him", ACTS 10:38. The positive side of this statement is rendering help to those who need help. Jesus healed the sick, raised the dead, opened the eyes of the blind, the ears of the deaf, and brought joy to those that needed help. It is our privilege to know "to do good" and do it. "Be ye doers of the word and not hearers only, deluding yourselves."

Although several years have passed since he was declared legally dead and his insurance collected by his wife, one of his daughters found him Monday and arranged for last night's reunion.

It took place at the home of Mrs Dolores Simmons. Mrs. Etta Charbonneau and Mrs. Ruth Ann Hornback two other daughters also live here Mrs Blanche McCoy the other daughter, still lives in Cincinnati.

Dickman told the daughters he had made two trips to Cincinnati trying to find them He learned on the last visit, he said, that he had been declared legally dead and that his wife, now dead, had remarried

Not only did he find four daughters last night, but seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild. "I just can't get over it," he said.

We say this to America...

It took Studebaker, the great independent, to build the FIRST really modern car!

IT HAD to be done—and Studebaker did it! Studebaker—the great independent of the automobile world—once again has set the pattern for car design for years ahead!

Today's new Studebaker—styled by Raymond Loewy—is Studebaker's answer to America's growing demand for lower cost motoring.

The speedlined new Studebaker silhouette is designed to save gasoline sensationally because it's free from power-wasting excess bulk.

Studebaker has no "family" of cars to consider when it introduces a new model. Pace-setting Studebaker builds no other cars. Studebaker is completely independent.

That independence is the reason the far-advanced new 1954 Studebaker has swung on the scene so fast.

Drive the car! Get the proof!

Get ahead of the parade—and get a '54 Studebaker. Don't settle for an old-fashioned "new" car this year.

Get the out-ahead styling—the stand-out operating economy—of a Studebaker. You're sure to get more for Studebaker's modern design when you trade.

Stop in at your nearby Studebaker dealer's showroom today. Examine the car. Go out for a ride. Check Studebaker's big visibility—its low-to-the-ground safety—its deep-down comfort—its superb performance and handling.

See your Studebaker dealer right away!

Nebraskans Find Tax Easier To Pay Than To Get Back

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — James P. Davies of Omaha went on a trip last December and while he was gone Mrs. Davies paid the personal taxes on the family car. But she forgot to tell hubby.

Came March and Mrs. Davies went on a trip. Then Mr. Davies realized license plate deadline time was near. So he hustled to the courthouse and paid the tax.

A little later husband and wife happened to be comparing notes—and lo!

Off to the courthouse went Mr. Davies, seeking a refund. The license bureau suggested he talk to the county treasurer; the treasurer suggested he talk to the county assessor; the assesor suggested he talk to the County Board — which Davies now seeks to do.

The stake is $17.

Soviet Move 'Freeing' East Germany Called Sham by West

Sovereignty Granted; Red Army To Stay

Latest Russian Move Seen Effort To Force Western Recognition

BERLIN (AP)—Communist propaganda drums beat their loudest today to announce the Soviet Union had raised East Germany to the status of a fully sovereign state. The West promptly branded the Russian move a sham.

The Russians announced last night they hereafter would assume the same relations with the Communist East German government as "with other sovereign states," but would continue to keep their occupation army in the East zone to "safeguard security."

Another Maneuver

Western observers saw this as the latest in a long series of Soviet maneuvers to force official Western recognition of the East zone satellite—a campaign continually rejected by the Western Allies and the West German government on the grounds the Eastern regime does not represent the people.

The government-operated East German radio gave the announcement the full treatment, repeating it three or four times hourly.

But the U.S. State Department in Washington recalled the widespread worker revolts last June in East Germany and declared the "entire puppet regime would collapse under the weight of hatred and hostility of the populace" if Soviet troops were withdrawn.

West Germany's Acting Chancellor Franz Bluecher, heading the Bonn government while Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is state-visiting in Turkey, reacted similarly. He termed the announcement "just a phase of the propaganda battle of the East against the West" and said it "will not change the enslavement of the East German population."

The Soviet announcement said the East German Republic will be "free to decide . . . its own internal and external affairs, including the question of relations with West Germany."

But it immediately added that the Soviet Union retains in the . . . German Democratic Republic those functions which are connected with safeguarding security and which result from obligations arising for the U.S.S.R. from four-power agreements."

STORM TOPPLES CHURCH STEEPLE. Damaging winds that accompanied thunderstorms at McKinney, Tex., knocked the steeple from atop the First Methodist Church into the street. Workmen are shown repairing power lines also knocked down in the storm. The spot where the steeple originally stood can be seen at far side of church building at left. Damage to roofs and windows was heavy in the area as several tornadoes were reported in sections of Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Sheriffs Hear Of Violence on Ringling Train

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—An investigation was centered here today into several acts of violence, including one death, which marred the departure of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus for its 1954 tour.

The circus personnel, menagerie, rolling stock floats and indoor props left winter quarters at Sarasota in a 36-car train about noon yesterday. It opens its annual 40-day stay in New York's Madison Square Garden March 31.

As the long train moved north ward, a series of troublesome reports cropped up.

At Samoset, only a few miles north of Sarasota, a man was found dead beneath the wheels of the train.

Here there was a report of another man being savagely beaten and kicked in a drunken brawl.

At Dade City, 30 miles north of Tampa, a man was found beside the tracks. He said he was thrown off the train.

Ten miles farther along at Trilby, a man was taken off the train with a skull fracture.

Finally State Atty. James M. McEwen of Tampa had the train stopped at High Springs near Gainesville.

3 Burglaries Reported Here

$300 in Cash, Goods Taken in Break-Ins

Break-ins at two grocery stores and one home were reported by police today. Approximately $100 in cash and $200 in merchandise was taken.

Two hundred pennies and $45 in paper money, as well as $190 worth of groceries, was reported taken from a grocery store at 266 Patten St. sometime during Wednesday night. Mrs. John Carozza reported the break-in to police Thursday.

Several cans of beer and bottles of wine were taken from the Patterson Grocery at the corner of State and Fairground St. Thursday night, the owner told police this morning.

Mrs. Paul Davis of 771 Gill Ave. told police that someone entered her home sometime Wednesday evening and took about $52.

Labor Dispute Denied As Cause of Shutdown

UPPER SANDUSKY — Recent reports on the closing of the Sheldrick Manufacturing Co. of Upper Sandusky, erroneously stated that management's decision to close the plant was caused by reason of disagreement between the company and the union over contract negotiations, a joint statement of management and union said today.

In the statement, the company and the Federal Labor Union No. 24555 A.F.L. stated that no negotiations were in progress and Frank B. Stallings, president, stated that the plant's closing was necessitated due to a lack of sufficient business to successfully operated the plant.

Top Composer's Sister Hit by Automobile, Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—At almost the same time composer Bronislau Kaper was being presented an Oscar at the Academy Award ceremonies, his sister, Mrs. Irene Lurie, 52, was struck and instantly killed by a car.

Mrs. Lurie had been visiting her mother, Mrs. Marie Kaper, while her brother and her husband, Tadeusz Lurie, were at the Academy program. Kaper's Oscar was for the musical score in the film "Lili."

Tugboats Defy Order To Join Dock Walkout

NEW YORK (AP) — Harbor tugboats—the vital cogs in New York's east waterfront operations—steamed along as usual early today despite orders to observe picket lines of striking longshoremen.

Police reported only one tugboat had tied up. Its crew quit working when a small boat bearing pickets came alongside. On strike are members of the Independent International Longshoremen's Assn. Its officials ordered ILA tugboat members to observe the picket lines.

Meanwhile in Boston, longshoremen affiliated with the same union which is striking here voted not to handle cargo transferred there from New York.

As the morning wore on, a few members of the rival AFL Longshore Union crossed New York picket lines as in previous days to handle a few pier jobs.

There was no immediate indication as to what might result from a shipping industry move to bring dockers back to work by offering a package increase of 10 cents an hour and about $1,700,000 in retroactive pay and welfare benefits.

Shoulders Names New Source of Tip

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Post-Dispatch reports ex-police lieutenant Louis Shoulders, who cracked the Greenlease case, now names a slain ex-convict as his second informant on the whereabouts of the kidnap-slayers.

Shoulders, in federal grand jury testimony released at Kansas City Wednesday, named Joseph Costello, former taxicab firm operator here, as the second tipster.

But the Post-Dispatch yesterday quoted Shoulders as saying now the caller was John (Buddy) Lugar, victim of a gangland slaying Jan. 1.

Shoulders could not be reached for direct comment.

More than half of the $600,000 ransom paid in the case still is missing. Shoulders goes on trial in Kansas City next month on a perjury charge based on his testimony before the grand jury on his handling of suitcases containing the money.

17 Firms Escape Accidents in Month

The Industrial Safety Council of the Marion Chamber of Commerce heard a report Wednesday that 17 Marion industrial concerns had no lost-time accidents in February.

They were the American Malleable Castings Co., Commercial Steel Castings Co., Baker Wood Preserving Co., Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, Erie Railroad, New York Central System, Harding High Vocational Shop, the Ohio Edison Co., Fairfield Engineering Co., Marion Engineer Depot, Huber Mfg. Co., the Osgood Co., Arro-Expansion Bolt Co., General Excavator Co., B. F. Goodrich Co., McMillen Feed Mills, and the Quaker Oats Co.

come in and asked to have his watch band repaired.

Police Chief A. L. Stuckert surmised that the customer may have reached around the counter, snatched the sample cases and carried them to a car, while Dunlap was repairing the watch. The stranger later paid for the watch repair and left the store.

Dunlap described the lone customer as wearing a brown suit and being of medium build.

Police are still investigating the robbery. The salesman left Bucyrus this morning.

Bingo

legation appears to have foundation," he further explained.

"I wish to further advise, neither this office, the office of the solicitor, nor that of the Chief of Police, Thomas Coon, had been advised of the evil complained of concerning charity bingo in the city . . . . until this past week."

Mayor Robinson then pointed out that he had taken immediate action concerning an earlier complaint received by the governor that a juvenile lost all his earnings in card games in the city. He noted that the day following the governor's letter, City Council passed an ordinance outlawing all card playing in a public place in the city. This law is now being tested in the Marion County Common Pleas Court.

"IT WOULD APPEAR that the anonymous letters you received and remitted to my office, could very well have a connection with our prohibition of card playing. As soon as possible, a study will be made with an appropriate legislative committee of City Council pertaining to charity bingo," Mayor Robinson said.

Calling attention to the phrase in the governor's letter that "these letters are not written as an idle gesture," Mayor Robinson said that any communications from the governor's office are given careful consideration by the mayor's office.

"This office, as well as all other departments of the city . . . will as has been done in the past, direct our best efforts to enforcement of all provisions of the (city code) and (state laws) directed toward prohibiting any wrongdoing," Mayor Robinson wrote.

ORGANIZATIONS listed in the letter to Gov. Lausche to which bingo licenses for charitable purposes have been granted are Amvets, 139½ E. Center St.; Eagles, Aerie 337, Center and Orchard Sts.; St. Mary's Athletic Association, N. Main St.; Moose Lodge 889, N. Main St. and Redmen Lodge, 196 W. Columbia St.

Mayor Robinson said today that he would publicly release all letters from Gov. Lausche concerning possible gambling activities in the city and that he and other city officials would make full investigations of any gambling complaints.

In the two unsigned letters received by the governor both writers called attention to a statement made by Police Chief Thomas Coon that he was not aware of any bingo games played nightly in the city. Chief Coon explained today that he had received no complaints of any one organization holding bingo games in the city each night of the week.

He further explained he was fully aware of the charity bingo games but pointed out that these are licensed by the city and are therefore considered legal by the police department.

out of the admissions tax on movie tickets and others costing less than 60 cents. The House voted to cut the admissions levy from 20 to 10 per cent.

Some congressional sources indicated one likely compromise on this might be to eliminate the reduction on appliances but to accept the Senate provision on the lower priced tickets.

Senators Byrd (D-Va) and Williams (R-Del) won a surprising amount of support in the Senate last night for a move to knock out all of the cuts in the bill except the 217 million on admissions.

They charged it was irresponsible to cut taxes heavily in the present perilous world situation and with the budget unbalanced this year and next.

Six Crawford Schools Given Okay by State

BUCYRUS — Financial records of six Crawford County rural school districts, covering a period from May 17, 1947, to Sept 30, 1953, today held the approval of H. L. Swick, state examiner working out of the office of State Auditor James Rhodes.

The report covered financial transactions of Chatfield, Tiro, Leesville, Holmes - Liberty and Whetstone schools and Polk Local School district, which sends its pupils to Galion city schools. Only one finding was returned and several minor "illegalities" in disbursing public funds were noted. The finding of $1 was in favor of Whetstone School and against Hinamon's Store, east of Bucyrus, for an overpayment to the store.

At Leesville School, Swick said that three employes in the school lunch room sold food to the school, an illegal practice. The sales amounted to $178. The practice of reimbursing an employe for payments made for school purposes from his own personal fund was held irregular and Examiner Swick also criticized the payment of $260 to the school's music teacher for private music lessons given during the summer of 1951 for the recruitment of a school band. The practice has been discontinued, the report states.

At Tiro School, the report states that records were not in order for the examination and that several errors were found on the cash journal and appropriation ledger. Swick also criticized payments of unitemized bills, in direct payments made by reimbursing employes or the school activity account for cash expended for school purposes and a few illegal payments to an employe for merchandise.

pre-Pearl Harbor regular Army, captured awards for sound recording, film editing, cinematography, screenplay, direction and supporting actress and supporting actor in addition to best picture. The eight Oscars tied the former record held by "Gone With the Wind."

Donna Reed, as the prostitute of the James Jones best seller, (changed to a painted hostess in the movie), won her first Oscar in the supporting category. The role was a drastic change from the goodie-goodie roles which the Denison, Iowa, native had played for years in the movies. When her name was called she ran all the way and her first words into the microphone were: "It was a long walk, I didn't know if I was going to make it."

Sinatra in Comeback

Frank Sinatra, wartime crooning idol of the nation's bobby-soxers, climaxed a thrilling career comeback in winning an Oscar for the best supporting role.

One year ago the spindly crooner was considered washed up in Hollywood. He did not sing in "Eternity" but he disclosed that he would have been more than willing to sing on last night's show.

"But no one asked me," he said.

The Oscar for the best song went to "Secret Love," sung by Doris Day in "Calamity Jane" and by Ann Blyth on last night's show.

Fred Zinnemann, the director of "Eternity," won the top direction Oscar. He was the favorite by a close margin over George Stevens of "Shane." Stevens, however, walked off with the coveted Irving Thalberg Award for distinguished production.

Disney Takes Honors

The night started out like a testimonial banquet for Walt Disney. His cartoons and documentary films won four of the first six awards. They brought his total number of Oscars to 22, housed in a special anteroom at his office.

Millions watched and listened to the nationally broadcast awards show, which went off without a hitch. The show, with the accent on entertainment, was the best in years.

Two Waldo Musicians Rated High in Contest

Two Waldo High School pupils who participated in the Ohio Music Education Association district competition festival for solos and ensembles received high ratings at Tiffin Saturday.

David Noe, a trombonist, received an I or "superior" rating and Richard Kaelber, another trombinist, received a rating of II or "excellent."

Each received a certificate of award. Noe is eligible and will participate in the state finals competition at Bowling Green State University on April 10.

Marion Safety Leader Invited By Eisenhower

A Marion man has been invited by President Dwight D. Eisenhower to attend a Presidential conference on occupational safety in Washington in May.

Emmett Osterholt, shop superintendent of the Arro Expansion Bolt Co. recently received the formal invitation emblazoned with the presidential seal. He has accepted with pleasure.

Long active in safety programs, Osterholt is a past president of the Industrial Safety Council of the Chamber of Commerce and as such sponsored the first safety award banquet in Marion.

Osterholt has written the Department of Labor for more information on the conference. He believes about 3,000 persons from all over the nation will attend the meeting in the Labor Department auditorium, May 4, 5 and 6. What specific subjects will be discussed or what role Osterholt will take is not known at this time.

if a severe storm should hit while they were on their way home from school. Therefore, pupils were sent home at 1 p.m. Children whose parents were not at home were kept at school.

The high winds resulted in one injury to a Marion man. S. C. McAdow, 71, of 628 E. George St. was treated at Marion City Hospital for facial cuts and a bruised chest when a tree limb fell on his car at 2:30 p.m. while driving near his home. The limb went through the windshield showering McAdow with glass.

Other limbs fell at Avondale Ave. and S. Vine St., the latter cutting telephone lines and hitting a car.

Civil defense forces were alerted by Police Captain Clyde Hardin. Alerted on a standby basis were the ambulance corps, 40 trained first aid technicians, the messenger service provided by the Triangle Motorcycle Club, all auxiliary policemen, and rescue trucks. Other trucks were placed in various areas at the outskirts of the city in case they were needed for transportation or clearing streets.

Others Alerted

Also alerted by Captain Hardin were the fire department, schools, the training school, Engineer Depot, hospital and airport.

Throughout this section of the state the tension increased with reports of a severe storm at Connersville, Ind., about 25 miles west of Eaton in Preble County, Ohio.

However, the Connersville "tornado" apparently was just another March storm.

Gusts did cause some damage in other spots in Ohio. They reached peaks of about 60 m.p.h. in west and central portions of the state. In Columbus three display windows were blown into a downtown clothing store and an elderly woman was knocked down by the strong winds.

In Bellefontaine, a 20 by 30 foot section of metal roof was blown off the 3-story elevator building of the Kinnen Feed Mill.

Winds were recorded at 50 m.p.h in Lima. Trees fell, one of them on a car. Several pedestrians were swept off their feet. Part of a roof was blown off a section of the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corp.

Police Report Four Accidents

Pedestrian Injured When Struck by Car

A Marion pedestrian was slightly injured when struck by a hit-skip driver last night in one of four traffic accidents reported today by city police. The state highway patrol and sheriff's deputies reported no accidents on county roads or highways.

Roy Gregory of 324 Quarry St. told police he was walking west across N. Main St. at Mill St. when an unidentified car traveling east on W. Mill St. made a right turn onto N. Main St. and struck him. He suffered a cut over his right eye but required no medical treatment, he told police. He said the accident happened at 7 p.m. and that the driver of the car did not stop after hitting him.

The other three accidents were minor. Cars driven by Mrs. Charles Erow of 285 Spencer St. and Philip F. Boyd, 39, of 122 W. Columbia St. collided at E. Center and Charles Sts. at 11:07 a.m. Thursday.

At 8:30 a.m. Thursday, cars driven by Charles E. Miller, 61, of 233 Ballentine Ave. and Bruce E. Keiser, 19, of 918 Woodrow Ave. collided in front of 221 N. Prospect St.

Cars driven by Elmer A. Graf, 24, of 596 Avondale Ave. and Carl Gianero, 30, of 282 Willow St. collided at 7:55 a.m. Thursday at S. Prospect and Church St.

Hear Top-Secret Details

Senators Get New U. S. Defense Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Informed senators said today that rapid mass evacuation of cities and improved aircraft killer missiles are key points in super-secret plans for defense against possible enemy atomic attacks.

Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) called members of the Senate Armed Services Committee back into closed-door session today for any questions about the latest plans for continental defense.

Plans Outlined

With extreme caution, he announced that top-secret details of the defenses had been outlined yesterday at a lengthy closed session by Robert C. Sprague, North Adams, Mass., engineer and electronics manufacturer.

Saltonstall said Sprague had full cooperation of all top defense, intelligence and atomic agencies in making his independent survey for defenses against "the growing menace . . . because of Soviet developments in the nuclear and thermonuclear (hydrogen) fields."

His public statement said the senators got a picture of an "effective" defense which, however, could not guarantee "complete protection."

Other senators who listened to Sprague said rapid evacuation of urban and industrial populations was one of the protective measures advanced.

Expand Installations

Another, they said, was expansion of the Nike installations now ringing 10 locations to about 30 or 35. Nikes are high-speed guided missiles designed to search out and destroy enemy aircraft.

Locations for Nike emplacements made public through approval of sites by congressional committees include Seattle, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Detroit, New York, Los Angeles, Boston, Chicago, Norfolk, Va., and Ft. Meade, Md., to protect both Washington and Baltimore.

Launched from a platform and able to travel 1,500 miles an hour—far faster than sound—the missiles are controlled by automatic electronic devices to seek out their targets.

Success of their operation as well as any mass evacuation rests upon advance warning through the network of radar, radio and communications equipment expected to detect any surprise air attacks.

Believes Program 'Sound'

Saltonstall said secret reports indicate "a sound over-all continental defense program" is under way with "gratifying cooperation with Canada."

These measures plus prompt action by "our offensive forces, provide an effective defense for the United States commensurate with the threat," he said.

But he warned that "even if every resource of our country were to be put into its offenses and defenses, it would not buy complete assurance that we will not be attacked, nor complete protection in the unfortunate event of an atomic attack against us."

He said the nation must "face up to the fact that the threat of atomic attack introduces a new factor in our way of life."

"Living with it may not be so comfortable as before, but it is a burden which the country can abide and still remain free," he concluded.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo), a member of the Armed Services Committee and former secretary of the Air Force, suggested yesterday a new evaluation of the nation's air power by independent commissions to be appointed by the President and Congress.

Injunction

playing in a social manner was the principal source of revenue of the seven businessmen.

No property rights are affected by the ordinance, Piacentino argued, and therefore there is nothing unconstitutional about its passage and enforcement.

He said other cities and government units have passed ordinances prohibiting the playing of bingo, the sale of liquor on Sundays, and even the hours that barber shops may be open for business.

The ordinance provides for fines of $100 to $500 and-or imprisonment not exceeding six months, for those convicted of playing any form of card games in public places. It was passed to stop card game gambling after city officials received a letter of a Marion man, forwarded by Gov. Lausche, complaining that his nephew had been gambling away his pay check in local games. The businessmen plaintiffs are O. V. Messenger of 466 W. Center St., Ralph Armbruster of 155 N. Main St., Edmund Barzacchini of 488 W. Center St., John Shingler of 484 W. Center St., Christ Lagos of 151 N. Main St., Wilbur Bigford of 429 W. Center St., and Paul L. Anderson of 667 W. Center St.

New Look

By George Sokolsky

New phrases are often introduced into the language to highlight an idea or to confuse the human mind. Franklin D. Roosevelt and his intimate staff were most inventive in such matters as, for instance, the phrase "New Deal" "Quarantine Speech," or "Martin, Barton and Fish."

SOKOLSKY

The most recent of these phrases is "The New Look," which is applied to the defenses of the United States. It is designed to give the impression that the military have brought up something wholly different. Actually, this is a response to the changes that inevitably result from the invention of new means of warfare.

SUCH CHANGES have occurred since primitives threw stones at each other and then someone invented the slingshot, which became a weapon of war.

¼Since World War I, a tremendous advance has been made in weapons. The airplane and submarine were developed. Since then, the airplane has become the principal weapon of war, reducing the infantry so that quqestion even arises as to the utility, in the future, of this hitherto most important military organization.

When a decision is made about that, the cost of the Army will be reduced and the number of young men inducted into military service will be cut drastically. A long-distance jet bomber, carrying H-bombs, requires a very small crew compared to, let us say, a division of infantry.

In old-fashioned warfare, men faced each other and fought for position. In H-bomb warfare, planes will fly over areas to destroy them irrevocably. An area wiped out by an H-bomb cannot be occupied.

Similarly, such a submarine as "The Nautilus" is designed to do infinite damage with atomic weapons and to disappear swiftly. In the old days, navies faced each other and fought for position.

IN THE THEORY of warfare, there is nothing new in this. Clausewitz, the philosopher of war, discusses this subject as follows:

"What is the object of defense? To preserve. To preserve is easier than to gain; from which it follows at once that the means on both sides being supposed equal, defense is easier than attack. But wherein does the greater ease of preservation and protection lie? In this, that all time which elapses unused falls into the scale in favor of the defender. He reaps where he has not sown. Every intermission of the attack, either from erroneous views, from fear or from indolence, is in favor of the defender . . ."

The new weapons do not permit of preservation because they are conceived to achieve total destruction of an area. It does not matter whether the airplane is intercepted; if even for a moment before its own destruction it can let loose its weapon, the damage will be done. Retaliation can destroy as much or more than the enemy accomplishes, but in all cases destruction is total in the area.

Clausewitz further says:

"In tactics every engagement, great or small, is a defensive one if we leave the initiative to the enemy, and await his appearance on our front. From that moment on we can make use of all offensive means without losing the two advantages of defense mentioned above, namely, that of awaiting and that of the terrain. In strategy, first of all, the campaign takes the place of the battle, and the theater of war that of the position; then, later, the whole war takes the place of the campaign, and the whole country that of the theater of war, and in both cases the defensive remains what it was in tactics."

IN THE NEW type of warfare, there can be no real defense. Whoever attacks more swiftly and more fully has the advantage; defense is retaliation, but retaliation is not for position, it is for vengeful, total destruction.

This then raises the question of the usefulness of old organizations and ancient weapons.

What function will infantry have in war? What will artillery do? What will large masses of drilled soldiers do?

If "The New Look" means that a study of the new weapons forces us to reconsider the nature of ancient military organizations and ancient weapons, then it makes sense.

If, on the other hand, it only means that we pile new weapons on obsolete ones, maintaining the cost of both, then it is not a "New Look," but a waste of the people's money.

Burning Meadows Kills Rabbits, Say Ohio Wildlife Men

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state division of wildlife predicted today many young rabbits will die in their nests in a "perennial burning" operation performed yearly about this time.

Floyd B. Chapman, associate chief of the game management section, appealed to farmers and suburbanites not to burn fencerows, stubble fields and grassy meadows.

He urged "as much protection as possible be given the first litters of rabbits, as these young rabbits, and the young which they themselves will produce during the summer months, will make up a larger percentage of the bunnies which will be found in the hunter's bag during the coming season."

BURGLARY AT KENTON

KENTON — Burglars stole cigarettes, coffee, canned goods and other groceries Tuesday night when they broke in to Lyman's Market here. Inventory is being made to determine the total loss of merchandise, but the cigarettes were valued at $200. Police said that the burglars broke into both the store and the storage barn located in the rear of the market.

Defenses Down

By Victor Riesel

It is impossible to prevent an enemy from smuggling the new "economy-size" A-bomb into the U.S.

RIESEL

We can only increase our chances for accidental detection of such lethal smuggling.

Yet, for years this country has been decreasing — instead of increasing — its force of inspectors. These are the very men trained to recognize the pocket-size bomb long before it gets across a border or a dock into the jurisdiction of the police officials who have now been briefed on how to identify the implosion gimmick.

For the endless details of the slash in border guards I refer you to the U. S. Customs Port Patrol Offices, of the American Federation of Government Employes, AFL. Since 1947 they've been fighting a losing battle, their ranks thinning as the government laid them off by the score. This past summer another slash cut off 50 inspectors from the New York docks when their government appropriation just got lost.

Yet these customs agents have been trained for years to recognize — and have been searching for — atomic weapons and possible A-bomb smugglers.

THIS TINY BAND of inspectors can now cover only one dock in five along the vast coasts of our land — because fully 90 per cent of the Port Patrol Divisions have been wiped out since 1947.

Twelve thousand ships enter our ports every year, but only 20 per cent are inspected — because there just aren't enough men to go around the clock on the piers and launch landings. Airports and inland border points must also be covered.

These are not carefully patrolled. How can they be? As far back as 1947 the Customs Bureau appropriations was trimmed $3,500,000. This wiped out much of the Customs Border Patrol between Mexico and the U.S. and Canada and the U.S.

Neither the AFL union nor this column means to imply that another few million will keep this country safe for democracy by filtering out every enemy A-bomb. That just can't be done.

You could smuggle in the old fashioned baby-grand size atomic bomb at a dozen points. There is, for example, a firm which buys special coal from England. This stuff is brought over in ocean-going barges.

THEY PUT IN at a big East Coast port, sail right through the harbor and are familiar sights to all authorities. They pull up alongside the regular dock — and could unload a bomb, just as easily as coal, if the enemy wanted to simulate a coal barge and get it in a day before the regular one is due from England.

The authorities know that. But what can be done? You can't put a man aboard a barge in England every time one is sent over. The enemy knows it, too.

You could, for example, move hundreds of vest pocket bombs or parts in from the Soviet base in Guatemala or the Communist community in Mexico City with ease. Just put the stuff in the trunk of a car and drive into Tia Juana some Saturday or Sunday night. There you join the line of thousands of cars waiting bumper to bumper to get back into Lower California.

It's anywhere from an hour to a night's drive to naval bases from San Diego to San Francisco. Then —boom!

These instances are duplicated in scores of border sectors. There are few ways to fight the smuggling. Our authorities know, for example, that dope comes through in olive oil shipments from abroad. But what can we do? Can we open and spoil every case of olive oil? These could just as easily contain the vest pocket bomb.

WE MIGHT BUY information at the source — somewhere in Europe —but that is futile since it means trying to penetrate the cagey Kremlin. What we ought to do is increase the potential of accidental discovery by increasing, instead of slashing, our customs force.

For more than a year now, a bill which would make possible an increased patrol has been lying unnoticed in the House Ways and Means Committee. It is H.R. 4033, introduced by Rep. Eugne Keogh Mar. 17, 1953. It would insure adequate personnel, including "radio-equipped motor vehicles, small watercraft, and aircraft for use in patrol work in harbors and along the coasts and other borders of the U.S."

It would make the Port Patrol a permanent section of the government. It is not one now. It must get its appropriation out of the Treasury Department's money. So it's sort of a step child, without money of its own. But the Ways and Means Committee is jammed. So the border patrol force will be slashed from year to year.

Good thing the inland police now know how to recognize the vest pocket A-bomb!

Extra Precautions Planned

AEC To Continue Pacific Bomb Tests

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—American nuclear weaponeers, whose predictions about the runaway H-bomb fired at Bikini missed the mark by millions of tons of force, propose to go ahead with their schedule for more and mightier blasts this spring.

For those tests of the spring series which are thermonuclear, or involving hydrogen bombs, they will rely on two things:

1. An enlarged danger area and improved warning system.

2. A better estimate of the force to be unleashed in subsequent H-bomb tests.

ON THE BASIS of comparisons made by atomic authorities in Congress, the March 1 thermonuclear explosion appears to have been upwards of 14 megatons—energy equivalent to that produced in the explosion of 14 millions tons of TNT. (The old atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima had an energy release of 20,000 tons, or 20 kilotons.)

Using information gained from the first, exploratory test of a hydrogen device in the fall of 1952 and adding to it new and intricate computations from laboratory studies, the weaponeers made an initial forecast for the March 1 weapon which was substantially less than half the force eventually revised upward before the test shot, it is understood. But even the revised estimate fell several million tons below the power scientists now believe was loosed in the explosion.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER, in an understatement, said Wednesday something must have happened that we never experienced before, and must have surprised and astonished the scientists.

What happened?

Probably not even the nuclear scientists who devised the weapon and supervised its tests know many of the answers yet nor will they until careful analysis of such recordings as could be made of the explosion are worked out on robot computing machines. A multitude of data, including such things as study of the intensity and coloration of light in the explosion as measured against millionth-second timing, must be scrutinized.

THEN, TOO, IT seems probable that the scientists will take another look at the fushionable material used in the weapon and its triggering device before they predict the power of the next thermonuclear bomb.

The disconcerting and embarrassing thing about the March 1 thermonuclear tests was not the terrific blast (there has been no evidence that anyone was injured or killed by the explosion which got out of hand) but the erratic and far-flung atomic cloud that raced outward from the scene.

It touched with radioactive ash the crew of the Japanese fishing craft Lucky Dragon sailing 70 miles east of Bikini, supposedly upwind from the explosion.

Wilson Questioned

Special Treatment of Army Stars Hit by Congressman

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson has a list of questions about alleged special treatment of baseball players drafted into the Army Rep Hess (R-Ohio) has asked for the answers.

Basing his inquiries on what he said were a number of newspaper stories, Hess in a letter to Wilson yesterday asked why a number of "these professionals' spent their whole tour of duty at a single post what their military assignments were and whether any favors were being sought

Wilson's office said the request would be studied

The Ohio congressman, chairman of a House armed services subcommittee on defense activities singled out especially articles dealing with Billy Martin, the New York Yankees' second baseman Willie Mays, centerfielder for the New York Giants, and an airman he said was named Crispino and belonged to the Philadelphia Phillies

The Phillies said they had signed a Baltimore catcher named Carlo Crispin who was now in the Air Force but expected to be discharged this fall

Hess quoted passages from the stories to the effect that an Army spokesman said Martin had been kept under 6th Army jurisdiction instead of going to Fort Ord, Calif, after a top officer said "Hell, let s get him on our ball club'

Other press excerpts, Hess said indicated Mays spent his whole 21 months of active duty at Fort Eustis Va and Crispino was starting his third baseball season with the Patrick, Fla, Air Force Base club

Research Under Way

Chemists See Possibility Of 'Starving Out' Cancer

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The possibility of starving out cancer through the combined attack of dietary control and chemicals harmful to the growth was reported Thursday to the American Chemical Society.

The procedure was described as having a "promising possibility" by Dr. James B. Allison, who said studies now under way at the Rutgers University Bureau of Biological Research show that the life of a tumor-bearing animal may be prolonged through diet control.

Could Reverse Process

This, he said in a paper prepared for the biological chemistry division of the society's annual convention, may make it possible to use chemotherapeutic agents—chemicals such as the "triethylenimines"—that are detrimental to cancer, to slow up, stop or even cause regression of the cancer.

Dr. Allison, professor of physiology and biochemistry at the university, said the administration of TEPA — triethylenimino phosphoramide — to laboratory rats reduces the utilization of food in both normal and cancerous animals.

The daily use of TEPA in rats with experimental cancer caused the tumors and all the other tissues to grow poorly, he said. But when the diet was properly supplemented with methionine, the effect of TEPA on the normal tissues was reduced and the tumor was still retarded.

Shows Tumor Growth

Methionine is one of the amino acids making up protein. "Thus diet can protect, at least in part, the tissues of the body from the depleting effects of the cancer, thereby slowing the growth of the tumor and preparing the way for a more prolonged and drastic type of chemotherapy," he said.

"The possibility of combining chemotherapy with dietary therapy is promising."

Crawford County Easter Seal Drive Goal To Be $3,500

BUCYRUS — Paul Downend, president and general chairman of the drive for Easter seal sales, announced today that the Crawford County goal is $3,500.

Volunteer workers from the Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y and school groups have been busy addressing and stuffing 11,000 Easter seals which will be in the mail this week.

Treasurer E. B. Hagaman's report for the year 1953 shows that $3,025 was received in the 1953 Easter seal campaign and $2,591.35 or 85 per cent, was spent for medical treatment and appliances for crippled children in this community and Crawford County. Downend announced that of the funds raised here, 76 per cent are retained for local services, while the balance will go to the Ohio and national societies to support programs of research, education and service.

The Crawford County Crippled Children's Society has purchased, for use in all schools in the county, two audiometers to test children's hearing. One of the $435 instruments is currently being used in Crestline schools.

Air Force Puts Civilians In Charge of Mess Halls

ENID Okla. (AP)—Tough old mess sergeants and KP, scourge of rookie servicemen, are on their way out at the Vance Air Force Base.

The Air Force announced it was using Vance for an experiment, putting the mess halls under the jurisdiction of paid civilian personnel.

The civilians will be responsible for catering, serving, and best of all, policing the mess halls.

The Air Force said it feels the new routine should save money and at the same time provide better meals. It said rookie morale should improve with the elimination of KP.

Driver's Excuse Dandy But Fine Is $5 Anyway

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Municipal Judge Geraldine MacElwane says the excuse offered yesterday by Paul A. Kroyer, 19, for running a red traffic light was the most original ever heard in her court.

Just as he was about to stop for the red light, the youth related, his 6-month-old pet wildcat, sitting on the seat beside him, toppled off and landed beneath the brake pedal.

"I didn't dare push down the brake pedal on him," Kroyer said.

Learn of Him To Bear the Cross

By REV. WILLIAM F. KISSEL
Pastor of St. John E. and R. Church

"If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, take up his cross and follow me."—Matthew 16:24.

There is a difference between burdens and crosses. W. M. Clow in his book, "The Cross and Christian Experience," says that these words express the difficult experience of life. They are "burden," "thorn," and "cross." The "burden" is that which cannot be avoided—daily tasks, duties, and responsibilities, sorrows and loneliness. The "thorn" is some particular affliction laid upon us. The "cross" is a voluntary acceptance of self-denial in some form for the sake of Christ.

The Christian cause depends on cross-bearers. People who refuse to bear crosses do not cooperate with the Master in the great cause of building His kingdom in this world. You do not have to bear your cross. You may refuse, and many do. Some challenge comes to you to render a special service which will require sacrifice. It may possible involve caring for others, or lending support to a worthy cause, or serving your church in a special field for which you are fitted. No one can force you to do it, but if you accept, you are taking up your cross and following your Lord.

PRAYER: Dear Father in Heaven, help each of us to take up whatever cross is available to us in this needy world and follow our Master in loving service in His kingdom. Amen.

Doctor Praises 'TLC'

DENVER (AP)—Delegates to the University of Colorado Medical Center's postgraduate course wore expressions of anticipation.

The speaker, Dr. Charles U. LeTourneau of Chicago, praised a medicinal ingredient called "TLC" as a valuable discovery in treatment of the ailing.

"A new drug?" a delegate finally asked.

"No," replied the doctor, "Just tender, loving care."

$21 Million Suit Contends GE Has Monopoly

Toledo Firms Claim Anti-Trust Violation In Light Bulb Field

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Suit seeking 21 million dollars as treble damages under U.S. antitrust laws for profits alleged to have been lost because of monopoly of the electric light industry was filed in Federal District Court here today against the General Electric Co.

Plaintiffs are the Save Electric Corp., Toledo manufacturer of light bulbs, and three of its subsidiary distributing companies, Verd-A-Ray Corp., Pentray Corp., and First Lamp Co.

William H. Black Jr. of a Toledo law firm, based the action on a recent decision and judgment of the U.S. District Court of New Jersey against General Alectric, Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co., and other licensees or firms, which held that GE had monopolized the incandescent electric lamp industry in violation of the Sherman act.

The plaintiff in the New Jersey suit, which began in 1942 and was concluded Oct. 8, 1953, was the United States government. The judgment against GE became final in December and was not appealed to a higher court.

Principal complaints of the Toledo firms is what they term monopolistic practices of GE and its licensees in an unlawful conspiracy, have prevented the plaintiff firms from obtaining component parts or high speed automatic machinery for producing light bulbs for the general market.

The alleged conspiracies extended into the sales field and cost the local firms at seven million dollars in unrealized profits on the 137 million incadescent bulbs the plaintiff has manufactured and sold from 1936 through 1953, the suit charged.

The Toledo plaintiffs contended they would have realized additional profits estimated at three cents a bulb had it not been for the unlawful conspiracies and practices of GE.

The suit charges that GE the world's largest producer of bulbs, both prevented the Save firm from manufacturing its bulbs as cheaply as GE could do it and also forced the local distributors to meet drastic price cuts which GE made after the government's suit was brought against it in 1942.

Skipper's Case Heard By Coast Guard Board

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Coast Guard board yesterday dismissed 3 of 6 allegations against Capt. Henry Stiglin of Vermilion, captain of the ore freighter, Henry Steinbrenner, which sank May 11 with a loss of 17 lives.

At a hearing to determine whether Stiglins license should be suspended or revoked, the trial examiner, H. T. Long of Philadelphia, said he would take the other three under advisement for a later ruling.

The three are:

Having departed from sheltered waters without securing hatch covers properly.

Failure to change course in the face of the impending threat of a drastic change in the weather.

Failure to have allegedly damaged hatch cover clamps repaired before leaving port.

Small Fortune Located Too Late To Aid Finder

RIGA CENTER, N. Y. (UP) — William Cowie recently discovered $18,500 in Confederate money.

Rummaging through the attic of the 130-year-old stone house he has lived in for 20 years, Cowie came upon an old paper container he hadn't noticed before. Inside were the bills, ranging from $1 to $500 and dated from 1861 to 1864.

An expert estimated the value of the bankroll to collectors at $18.50.

Tuna-Cauliflower Casserole Is Thrifty Dish

A rich cheese sauce tops cauliflower and grated tuna fish in this unusual and delicious combination. Easy to put together, it's an economical main dish loaded with appetite appeal.

Use:

1 pkg. frozen cauliflower
½ bar (¼ cup) butter or margarine
4 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
1½ cups grated American cheese
1 7-oz. can grated tuna, drained
1 cup soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter or margerine, melted

Boil cauliflower in saucepan containing ¾" boiling salted water, covered, until just tender (about 6 minutes). Drain. Melt butter in saucepan, stir in flour, salt, and pepper and blend. Stir in milk gradually and cook until thickened. And cheese, stir until melted. Arrange cooked cauliflower in greased 1½ quart casserole. Sprinkle tuna over cauliflower. Cover with remaining sauce. Mix bread crumbs and melted margarine and sprinkle over sauce. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 F.) 30 to 40 minutes. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

May Decide McCarthy-Army Feud

Right of Cross-Examination Big Issue

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—It is a rare day in the Capitol when a witness before a congressional investigating committee is allowed to cross-examine someone who has testified against him.

This is the usual procedure: the witness, at a table, faces the committee members sitting behind a long, raised desk. They shoot questions at him. He answers or refuses to answer.

If he refuses, he must have a good reason—for example, that his answer might incriminate him—or he faces jail for contempt of Congress.

The witness may be permitted to ask the committee members a couple of questions. This is neither a cross-examination of them nor of some other witness who has said damaging things about him.

NOW McCARTHY is in the position of having to appear before his own subcommittee to answer its qquestions about his fight with the Army. And McCarthy insists he must be allowed to cross-examine witnesses against him.

It isn't final that he'll be permitted to do it. That will be decided when his subcommittee lays down its rules for the probe..

If McCarthy is refused cross-examining rights, he may appeal to the full Senate.

McCarthy, chairman of the subcommittee, already has stepped aside for this investigation, letitng Sen. Mundt (R-SD) act as chairman. And McCarthy has said he won't vote.

This voting may be important since all the witnesses will appear under oath and if the committee decides anyone is lying it can recommend the Justice Department take over the case for prosecution.

SINCE McCARTHY is still a member of the subcommittee, he would have the right to sit behind the long desk with the other members when the hearing starts.

If they decide he can't cross-examine—that they'll do all the questioning—he might just as well sit out in the audience until his time to testify came.

But if he is allowed to quiz the Army people testifying against him, there is no predicting either the outcome of the hearing or the direction it will take. He's a tough, relentless questioner and could, if he wished, drag in side issues. He says Army people should be allowed to question him too.

The four principals in the case are McCarthy and Cohn on one side and the Army, represented by its secretary, Robert T. Stevens, and its assistant legal counsel, John G. Adams, on the other.

Cardington School Bus, Auto Collide; Pupils Not Injured

Twelve school children escaped injury yesterday when the school bus in which they were riding collided with an automobile on Route 42, four miles south of Cardington.

The Marion post of the state highway patrol reported the bus, owned by the Cardington Board of Education, and driven by Lucille M. Ebert of Cardington, was crossing Route 42 on Route 746 at 4 p.m. yesterday when it moved into the path of a car operated by Theodore W. Carmean, 36, also of Cardington.

Neither the bus passengers nor the drivers were injured and only moderate damage resulted to the vehicles.

The bus driver was charged with failing to yield the right of way and fined $15 and costs by Mayor Don Healea of Cardington.

Don't Imitate Children, Expert on Speech Warns

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP) — Parents should not imitate children's speech or require a child to talk as an adult, says Prof. Robert W. Albright of Cornell University.

A child should be answered in "sensible English," explained Albright, who is doing research on children's speech with the aid of his own three youngsters.

Albright said children have difficulty in learning to form sentences becasue adults first drill them on single words, especially the names of objects.

Night Sessions Scheduled for Galion Schools

GALION — Night school at the West elementary and the junior high school is planned for next Monday and Tuesday nights, respectively.

This was recommended at a recent meeting of the Galion Board of Education in order that parents and citizens could have the opportunity to observe physical conditions of the schools as well as other facilities.

Pupils will be dismissed at noon to rest for the night session. The West elementary grades will be in session from 7 p.m., until a little after 8 p.m., Monday. On the following night, the junior high school will have three class sessions from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Pupils and teachers are expected to be back at school for the sessions. It is hoped that all parents and as many interested citizens as possible will be present. If these two nights are successful, it is planned to have night school at other buildings of the city, it was announced today by Marion E. Shank, superintendent of schools.

The West elementary grades and junior high school are in the same building.

BOY SCOUT MEETS IKE'S CHALLENGE

Every boy pledges, when he becomes a Scout, to "Do a Good Turn Daily." To "Help other people at all times" is a Scout obligation to which he is committed. The three programs — Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting, and Exploring — contain opportunity and incentive to develope leadership qualities.

The power of organized boyhood to render valuable service to community and nation has been proven by the Boy Scouts of America during their 44 years of existence. Recognizing this power, President Eisenhower has asked the Boy Scout Organization to undertake a National "Conservation Good Turn" as a major emphasis of their 1954 activities program. The challenge has been accepted. Scout Units in the Harding Area Council and throughout America are launching Conservation Good Turn projects during the week of March 21 to 27, in the areas of: Soil and Water Conservation, Wildlife Conservation, and Forestry, through a program of "Outdoor Good Manners" and good Conservation practices.

The future strength of America lies in its youth. How will the young leaders of tomorrow meet the challenge of the times will depend on the character training we give them today.

Congratulations and Best Wishes to all Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers as they press forward with their program of participating citizenship, based on the ideals of the Scout Oath and Laws and their commitment to "The Daily Good Turn."

Hamilton, Delphos Get Nod in Run for Ohio Crowns

Semi-Final Contests Slated Today; Title Tilts Saturday

By FRITZ HOWELL

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio's high school basketeers reached the "this is it" stage today in their race for state championships.

Four Class B squads, survivors of 781 starters, meet this afternoon in Cleveland Arena in the semi-finals.

And tonight the 4 Class A qualifiers, who emerged from a field of 287, clash to determine tomorrow's finalists.

A crowd of more than 9,000 was expected for the Class B games in which New Lexington St. Aloysius (22-4) faced Westmont (26-1), and Copley (25-0) played Delphos St. John's (27-4). The winners meet at 2 p. m. tomorrow for the title won a year ago by Mariemont—now a Class A team.

The Class A clashes are expected to attract a full house of some 14,000. The games send Hamilton Public (23-3) against Canton McKinley (20-3) and Columbus South (21-4) against Kent Roosevelt (22-4). The victors meet for the crown at 8 p. m. tomorrow.

Oddly enough, the two teams with the shortest winning streaks, Hamilton Public and Delphos St. John's, have been installed as the favorites in the two classes. Back in 1949 those teams took the championships, and many of the experts expect history to repeat.

Kent Roosevelt is working on an 8-game streak, Columbus South on 12, and Canton McKinley on 14. In Class B, New Lexington St. Al has won its last 8, Westmont its last 24, and Copley, unbeaten, 25.

Westmont and Copley, with the longest stretches, are coached by men who never played basketball—Copley by Ken Bateman of Akron University, and Westmont by Glenn Harter of Capital.

Chances of televising the finals were still open, but Commissioner H. W. Emswiler said no arrangements had been made by any stations. He said a fee of at least $500 would be charged for television permits, and that such broadcasts would be permitted only in case of sellouts.

Radio broadcasts will be offered by 14 stations—in Hamilton, Middletown, Defiance, Cleveland, Alliance, Youngstown (2), Lima (2), Canton, Piqua, Columbus, Akron and Ashland.

The clubs had hour-long practice sessions on the Arena hardwoods yesterday, after which Copley and Kent Roosevelt returned home while the others stayed in hotels. Hamilton declined to divulge where it was housed, Coach Warren (Porky) Scholler saying he didn't care to have fans bothering around his "Shangri-La."

Coach Herman (Bup) Rearick, who played on Dover's 1927 state title team and coached the same school to the crown in 1933, believes this is the year his Canton McKinley club will break its jinx. The Bulldogs have been in the state tourney 15 times—more than any other school—but have never won despite 4 trips to the final games.

"This team has the ability to make it all the way," Rearick said.

Most of the other coaches were a bit hesitant in making predictions. Harold Andreas of Kent Roosevelt said he was glad his "Rough Riders" were rated fourth in Class A, and Scholler said "I don't see why we should be picked as favorites."

George (Pug) Hood, whose Columbus South powerhouse defeated Hamilton 68-67 late in the season, said his kids were relaxed and unworried—but Frank (Chico) Howard, center, forgot to bring his uniform along to yesterday's practice and worked out in a set of gaily-flowered shorts.

Coaches of the Class B teams had nothing to say about the probable victor.

Cage Officials Remain Unknown Before Tipoff

CLEVELAND (AP)—For the first time in Ohio history, officials for the state high school basketball tournament games will remain a secret until just before game time, and no official will handle more than one game.

For years the competing coaches have selected the whistle-tooters, but this time the state board of control of the Ohio High School Athletic Assn. will name the arbiters. A dozen of the state's top officials will be on hand for the six contests.

OSU Swimmer Betters Record At NCAA Meet

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Ford Konno, the swift Olympian from Ohio State via Honolulu, will make an assault on his own 220-yard record tonight in the CAA Swimming Championships in the speeded-up Syracuse University pool.

He already has applied for recognition of his world record of 2:04.7 and Syracuse swimming Coach Ted Webster said it wouldn't pay anyone to bet against him.

Webster pointed out that the 25-meter pool is one of the fastest rigged for collegiate competition. It has been rebuilt with special overflow pipes to carry off any waves that might hamper the swimmers.

Konno certainly has found the pool to his liking. In last night's 1,500-meter freestyle, he smashed his own NCAA record of 18:15.5 by splashing over the distance in 18:14.4. It was the first event of the 31st annual championships and Konno left no doubt as to his superiority over the rest of the field.

The second-place man, Bill Yorzyk of Springfield, was clocked in 18:57, the only other man in the four-heat field to get home under 19 minutes.

Dan Osborne of Stanford was third in 19:16, George Breen of Cortland fourth in 19:17.4 and Pete Duncan of Oklahoma fifth in 19:20.

Lewin, Zepeda and Bowery Boys Win

Mark Lewin, Olga Zepeda and the Bowery Boys were winners of matches in the wrestling program at the Marion Armory last night.

Lewin won his match from Irish McGee when the latter was disqualified in 18 minutes for not permitting Lewin back in the ring after he threw him over the ropes. Prior to that, Lewin had McGee at his mercy with headlocks.

Zepeda won the last two falls in her best match with Joyce Ford. Zepeda won the deciding fall after 13 minutes with drop kicks. Ford had taken the first fall with a self strange in 11 minutes but Zepeda came back to reverse another self strangle into a jack knife to win the pin in three minutes.

The Bowery Boys, Jack and Hurley, were victorious over Ricky Waldo and Scotty Williams in a rough match when they copped the deciding third fall.

The winners took the first fall when Jack secured a crab hold on Williams in 21 minutes. Jack was suffering from a gash in his forehead resulting from Waldo's head-butting.

Pirates Claim First

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates and General Manager Branch Rickey claimed today a baseball "first"—the first major league team to contract for an entire season of transportation by plane.

The club's front office said Rickey and Capital Airlines officials have negotiated to use a chartered plane for most of the club's trips this year.

LEADS GRID FLYERS

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Jim Shafor, a junior guard from Hamilton, was elected captain of the 1954 University of Dayton football team yesterday.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

After two years of controversy, college basketball coaches throughout the country have voted to discard the one-one foul rule and approved a bonus plan for foul shots.

SHORT

Under the one-one ruling, a fouled player was awarded a second chance if his first shot missed. The new plan will award a second attempt only if the first one is made. If the player misses his first attempt, the ball is in play immediately.

If the bonus shot is missed the ball is put in play from out of bounds. During the last three minutes of play, two shots will be awarded as under the former rule. In passing the new plan, coaches contended, the one-one rule gave a reward for average shooting while the bonus plan will stress more accuracy from the charity line.

WHILE COACHES from some of the leading cage powers in the nation were advancing some outlandish theories to aid in the skyrocketing of basketball scores, Coach Jerry Bush of the University of Toledo Rockets continued holding out for rules aiding the defensive play of a team.

Bush has long been a foe of the many proposals passed to speed up the game. During a discussion of the various proposals this winter, the Toledo mentor came up with a plan of his own.

"Since most of the proposals would practically eliminate the defense why not play the game something like this?" the 39-year-old Bush says.

"LINE UP five boys at each end of the floor and give them a basketball. Let them shoot unmolested for 20 minutes and then take them to the locker room.

"There would be no need for instructions at halftime so the 19-minute rest period could be spent in rubbing the players' sore arms. The second half would be a repeat of the first except the teams would switch baskets."

The Rockets' guide smiles when he refers to the "exciting" game. "Just look at the points," he says. "The final score might be 1,098-1,097."

"There's just one more thing," Bush adds with a grin. "An accounting professor from each school would serve as a tabulator for the opposing team."

THIRD BASE CLINCHER. Boston Red Sox third baseman Floyd Baker seems to be getting the best of it in this play at third base in sixth inning of game with New York Yankees at St. Petersburg, Fla. Hank Bauer of the Yankees slid under Baker (12) as he advanced to third base as Gil McDougald struck out. Red Sox catcher Sammy White threw to Baker on attempted putout. Yankees won, 11 to 7.

Green Camp Hoopsters Defeat Mt. Gilead for Tourney Crown

Green Camp Elevator climaxed a brilliant independent basketball season last night by capturing the YMCA Invitational Basketball tournament with a surprisingly easy win over the Farm Bureau of Mount Gilead 61-45.

The game, expected to be a nip and tuck affair on the basis of the Farm Bureau's earlier performances in tournament play, was iced in the second period by the Green Campers when they moved to a 31-16 halftime lead on the basis of a second period attack which netted them a total of 20 points. The absence of Pink and Boots Sheets, former Elm Valley stars, lowered the losers' chances of winning the post season tournament which contained 17 teams in the Mid-Ohio Area.

The Elevator's victory enabled it to preserve its undefeated record on the local YMCA floor and gave it in addition to the Independent League championship its first post season tournament win. Green Camp's record now stands at four straight Open League championships, 1951 District Championship and the 1954 Invitational tournament.

Ron Craycraft, 6-4 center of the local champions who flipped in 32 points Wednesday against Kenton, once again lead Green Camp's charge against Mount Gilead with a total of 18. All 18 of his points came in the first three periods as the Mount Gilead defense blanked him in the final eight minutes. Vern Hensel and Jim Ruth supported Craycraft's effort with 12 points each. Dewey Yake was the Farm Bureau's leader with 13 while Dick Howard and Spires followed with 11.

Action in the YMCA Basketball picture will end early next week when the Pythian Drugs of Columbus and Meyers Pumps of Ashland will be scheduled to determine the Pre-Season tournament winner. Both teams due to conflicts with local leagues and the conflict with Marion's basketball program have been unable to reach an agreeable date prior to now.

Wesley Methodist and Marion Industries, winners of the YMCA Church and Industrial Leagues, travel to Columbus Saturday to take part in the Ohio-West Virginia Sports Festival and a shot at state laurels. The local squads won district honors last week and will be facing the top teams from their respective categories from over four areas in the Y district.

Gavilan Begins Final Training For Title Fight

CHICAGO (AP)—Ah, for the life of a world champion.

Welterweight king Kid Gavilan, his leathery face creased in smiles, arrived in Chicago last night to begin his final week of drills before trying to dislodge Carl (Bobo) Olson's middleweight crown in Chicago Stadium next Friday.

Gavilan was bundled in a heavy overcoat as he stepped from a New York plane into blasts of cold wind. Reporters whisked him away to a nearby cafe and there the fun began.

Gavilan is one of the few sports big shots who is agreeable for anything. He'll pose for a picture standing on his head and wiggling his toes if asked.

In the cafe, he wandered back to the kitchen and donned a chef's white headpiece and coat. Then he pretended he was carving up a big roast from the oven. Meanwhile, waitresses and kitchen help grouped around him, handing him dollar bills to autograph.

"These people—what won't they think of next for Gavilan," fumed Mundito Medina, the champion's cagey little trainer and a character in his own right.

Medina looked around the kitchen. "Look at Gavilan. They could give him a blank check to autograph and he wouldn't know the difference. Here he is in all this heat signing stuff and posing for pictures. He should be in bed resting."

While all this was going on, the confusion was completed by loud barks and growls from an iron-barred door leading to the office of the cafe's manager.

There inside was a great Dane. Someone was patting the huge dog and whispering in his ear.

"He won't hurt no one," this fellow said, "He just makes a lot of noise. Hey, Gavilan, how about this guy—he weighs 160 pounds."

That set off the photographers. They wanted Gavilan to get inside the office with the beast and make like he was going to punch him.

Gavilan peered through the iron grating and the great Dane—called "Chief"—stuck his nose through. Gavilan stroked it. The dog looked up at him.

"Okay," said Gavilan. "I go in—you take picture. This dog just another middleweight to Gavilan."

At this point, Medina was fit to be tied.

"No dogs" he yelled. "No dogs! How stupid can you people get. One bite and Gavilan lose his arm, to elbow and world will be without man who become next middleweight champion. No dogs!"

And with that, the group moved on to a hotel where Gavilan went to bed.

Redleg Lefties Cuffed in Win Against Detroit

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Cincinnati Redlegs knew he was confronted with right handed pitching problems this spring, now it begins to look as if he may have southpaw problems, too.

The Reds won yesterday's exhibition game with the Detroit Tigers, 13-11, but lefty Harry Perkowski was cuffed for all of the Tigers' 15 hits. Only Wednesday it was southpaw Fred Baczewski who got his lumps in an exhibition tilt.

Perkowski and Baczewski were two of the lefties who had to carry most of Cincinnatis pitching load last year.

Tebbetts planned to switch to a right hander for today's game with the St. Louis Cardinals. He planned to open with rookie Corky Valentine who has been impressive in each of his three appearances thus far.

Of the five tie games played during 1953 in the American League, the Detroit Tigers were involved in four. Three times they tied the Philadelphia Athletics.

Bob Brownson Considered at Massillon Post

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — Bob Brownson, Ohio's high school football Coach of the Year who led Portsmouth's Trojans to a nine-game victory suring last season, will be interviewed tonight by Massillon's Board of Education.

But Supt. L. J. Smith said:

"The fact the board is interviewing Mr. Brownson in a secret meeting should not be taken as an indication he will be chosen for the vacancy created when Chuck Mather, our football coach, was named head coach at the University of Kansas."

The Massillon superintendent said 8 or 10 candidates were still on the list of possibilities, and that all would be called in for interviews with the board. Several others have already been interviewed, Smith said.

"One of our board members is in Florida," Smith said, "and we'll take no action until he returns. I dont know when the new coach will be named, but it probably will be several weeks from now. We haven't even decided whether to name one of our own boys from the number of assistants, or go outside for the new coach."

The Tigers, who won the state championship six straight seasons under Mather, will pass up spring practice for the first time in years.

Brown's Trojans finished in the No. 2 spot, on Massillon's heels, in the final Associated Press football poll last fall.

Green Fees Hiked

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Green fees at Summit, Portage and Stark county golf courses will be 15 to 25 cents higher than last year. The Tri-County Golf Assn., which covers 17 courses, voted for the increase yesterday.

At Summit and Portage county courses, weekend and holiday fees will be $2, and weekday play will cost $1.40.

Branca Still Plagued by Homer Jinx

By RIP WATSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The dreaded home-run ball, which added Ralph Branca's name to the list of baseball's greatest "goats" in 1951, still is dogging the handsome right-hander.

Branca yielded three home runs —good for a total of six runs—in five innings yesterday against Cincinnati. The Redlegs went on to beat the Detroit Tigers 13-11. Wally Post, a .242 hitter with Cincinnati last year, hit the first with the bases empty, and pitcher Harry Perkowski added to Branca's embarrassment with a similar homer.

Then Hobie Landrith (.240 last year) slugged one out of the park with the bases loaded.

It was Bobby Thomson, then with the New York Giants, who victimized Branca with a home run in the final game of the 1951 National League playoff against Brooklyn. The historic blow cost the Dodgers a pennant and just about wrecked what had started out as a promising career for Branca with the Brooklyn club.

At the age of 21, Branca won 21 and lost 12 in leading the Brooks to a pennant. He never reached that figure again, although he was one of Brooklyn's better pitchers until Thomson unloaded against him. He pitched in only 16 games in 1952, winning four and losing two, and was sold to the Detroit Tigers last year after yielding 12 runs in 11 innings of pitching. Ironically, Brooklyn asked waivers on Branca shortly after he had been shelled again by the Giants. No National League club wanted him.

Branca wasn't the only pitcher to get his lumps yesterday, however.

The Philadelphia Phillies and Milwaukee wound up with a "football" score, 16-13 for the Phils, after a wild ninth inning in which the winners scored nine times and losers six. Del Ennis belted two home runs and Stan Lopata one for the Phils, and Sibby Sisti, Jim Pendleton and Hank Aaron homered for the Braves.

Rudy Regalado, Cleveland's rookie sensation, slugged his sixth and seventh home runs of the training season as the Indians whipped the Chicago Cubs 6-3. The 23-year-old phenom also singled twice and now has a .447 batting average and 17 runs batted in.

Pittsburgh took over first place—that's right, first place—in the National League spring standings by choking off a desperate Philadelphia Athletics rally to squeeze out an 8-7 victory. The A's had scored twice and had two men on base when Ed McGhee flied out to end the game.

The Washington Senators slugged Billy Pierce, the Chicago White Sox' top lefty, for six runs in the second and chased him in the fourth while running up a 9-2 score against the Sox. Connie Marrero and Al Sima teamed up to hold the Sox to six hits, all singles.

Oh, yes, there was some good pitching elsewhere too. Bob Wiesler became the first New York Yankee pitcher to go seven games, and Tom Morgan added two more scoreless innings as the world champions blanked the Boston Red Sox 2-0. Outfielder Hank Bauer batted home both runs in the third inning.

Stan Musial made three hits and scored both runs in the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 victory over Brooklyn, which shoved the Dodgers back into second place. Gerry Staley went seven innings for the Cards, allowing the only Dodger run, and Tom Poholsky finished up.

The Baltimore Orioles got three unearned runs from three New York errors and defeated the Giants 3-1, thereby giving the Birds the best record of the four clubs training in Arizona.

Morral Team Honored With Lodge Banquet

Morral High School's basketball team was honored at a recent banquet sponsored by the K of P Lodge of Morral at the school auditorium.

Principal speaker was Robert Strimer, basketball coach at Ohio Wesleyan University. His talk centered around character, sportsmanship and training to become athletes.

Coach Vern Hensel presented varsity basketball awards to John Craycraft, Ted Murphy, Clair Hensel, Jim Shifflet, Junior Bell, Charlie Rice and Vern Bolinger, all seniors. Two juniors earning varsity letters were John Neal and Mannie Saxton.

Reserve Awards went to Grant Wagner, Myron Sandridge, John Forry, John Fabian, Bob Williams, Buddy Heller, Jack Atha, Charles Foos and Max Brewer while junior high awards were presented to Dick Craycraft, Warren Hensel, Harry Johnston, Clyde Neal, Gene Moore, Ronnie Rice, Jerry Wood, Jerry Haner, Eddie Gregory and Norman Noyes.

Cheerleading awards went to Phyllis Lipker, Jackie Constable, Jeannie Parker, Peggy Schindler, Mary Ann Forry, Nancy Jones and Margie Marphu.

Awards also went to Clair Hensel, who was the top varsity foul shooter with 63 per cent and had the best field goal percentage, 41.3 per cent; Mannie Saxton, who was the top foul shooter on the reserve squad with 66 per cent. Trophies were presented to Ted Murphy for outstanding sportsmanship and to John Craycraft for the outstanding sportsmanship and to John Craycraft for the outstanding senior athlete.

During the program, a season review was given by Richard Bayless and remarks were given by Ivan Barnhart, assistant county superintendent, and Robert O. McFarlan, Morral school superintendent, and Robert O. McFarlan, Morral school superintendent. Remarks on the history of the K of P Lodge were presented by Charlton Myers while the invocation was given by Donald Williams, a school board member. Hensel served as master of ceremonies.

Recreation in the form of volleyball concluded the entertainment. The Lodge volleyball team defeated the high school squad which had won the county championship.

Middleweights Clash in Fight Color Telecast

NEW YORK (AP)—The middleweight bout tonight between Germany's Gustav (Bubi) Scholz and Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., will be the first sports event ever telecast in color over a network.

But that won't affect reception as usual on your black-and-white set. The Madison Square Garden bout will be carried nationally by NBC. It will also be broadcast by ABC.

It starts at 10 p.m., EST.

The unbeaten 23-year-old German middleweight, making his U.S. debut, is a 3½-1 favorite.

The odds are surprisingly big on a fighter who is making his first appearance, even though his record shows 49 wins, no losses, 2 draws and 28 knockouts. He has won 9 in a row, 8 by kayos.

In his gym workouts, the 5-9½, 156-pound Scholtz indicated he knew his way around a ring. The southpaw is a fast puncher, shifty, and hits hard with his right as well as with his left.

Andrews, 23, making his Garden debut, doesn't figure to be a soft touch. He won 12 of his last 13 fights. He has a 26-5-1 record with 3 KOs.

He also punches fast and has plenty of experience fighting left handers. The 5-9, 155-pound Andrews gained that while working as a sparring partner for Chuck Davey. He sparred more than 100 rounds with Davey and then beat the welterweight southpaw twice in regular fights.

Edison Athletic Banquet Will Be Held on April 6

The annual Edison Junior High School athletic banquet honoring basketball and football players and cheerleaders will be held Tuesday, April 6, in the school cafeteria. It was reported in Thursday's Star that it would be held next Tuesday.

Marion Hinklin, Marion County treasurer and former Marion athlete, is principal speaker for the banquet.

Football and basketball awards will be presented by Coach George Whitehead and cheerleading awards will be made by Mrs. Virginia Southerland. Members of the school track team will be guests at the banquet.

Edison finished as co-champion of the city junior high basketball league the past season.

Harry Simpson Sidelined With Fractured Arm

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Fielder Harry Simpson rode the Cleveland Indians' bench today with a broken arm, an injury suffered in the same exhibition in which catcher Mickey Grasso broke his left ankle.

Simpson was helped off the field Wednesday at Mesa, Ariz., after colliding with catcher Bob Murray of the Chicago Cubs but it was not until yesterday that X-rays showed the break.

Trainer Wally Bock said it was a "simple fracture of the left ulna, or forearm" and added that it "will be at least six weeks before he can play again." Simpson broke the same arm last November while barnstorming with a team of major leaguers.

On the more cheerful side, rookie Rudy Regalado continued as a heavy hitter yesterday while the Indians were beating the Cubs, 6-3, at Tucson.

The 23-year-old California infielder belted 2 home runs and 2 singles and was put out only once. That boosted his batting average to .447, his total for home runs to 7 and the number of men he has batted across the plate to 17—all of them high marks for the Indians.

And although he is still carried on the roster of the Cleveland farm team at Indianapolis, he probably will stay with the team and may be in a Cleveland uniform opening day.

Turn-To Scratched As Entry in Derby With Injured Leg

NEW YORK (AP)—The short but impressive racing career of Turn To, the future book favorite for the Kentucky Derby, apparently was ended today, the result of a bowed tendon.

The 3-year-old Irish colt, winner of the $269,000 Garden State Stakes in October and the $100,000 Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah in his last start, was withdrawn from the run for the roses as soon as Owner Harry F. Guggenheim learned of the injury yesterday.

The injury was discovered with shocking suddenness Wednesday at the Keeneland track in Kentucky where Turn-To had been training for almost two weeks. Trainer Eddie Howard noticed it, but waited until after yesterday's workout before reaching a definite conclusion.

A bowed tendon is a rupture of the sheath which covers the rear tendon in the horse's leg. It can be caused by a blow or a strain.

Annual Field Trial Event Set Sunday at Bucyrus

GALION — The 35th annual early spring Field Trial classic of The Crawford County Coon Hunters and Sportsmen Association is slated for Sunday at the Crawford County Fairgrounds in Bucyrus.

Roma W. Stall of Galion, president of the association, is expecting an entry of more than 150 dogs for the event. The dogs will be brought from all parts of Ohio and southern Michigan. They will run for a share of a guaranteed purse of $170.

Funds derived from the field trial will be used solely for the purpose of raising funds for restocking and feeding of wild game in this area, a project in which the association has accomplished a remarkable job. The association also strives to establish good sportsmanship, and to better the feelings between farmers and sportsmen through an understanding of the problems of each.

Cleveland Cuts Owen Friend, 4 Rookie Players

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians cut utility infielder Owen Friend and four rookies from their roster today as they began a 16-game swing eastward with the New York Giants.

With the break-up of the Tucson, Ariz. training camp, Friend was sent to Daytona Beach for further practice and reassignment, along with pitchers Marion Murzewski, a lefty, and Howard Rodemoyer, a righthander; infielder Bob Prentice; and outfielder Gale Wade.

The Indians now have 35 players on their roster and are carrying two others who have not yet been signed—infielder Rudy Regaldo, and veteran Hal Newhouser, who hopes to get another season out of a left arm that went lame after winning 200 games.

Breakfast Grouch Cured By Making Bright Curtains, Mats

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

If your husband is a morning grouch, try a subtle cure.

Set a pretty breakfast table, wear a gay brunch coat and create a sunny atmosphere. Then watch his grizzly-bear mood dissolve.

If your budget won't stretch to include special breakfast mats and matching curtains for the breakfast nook, make them yourself in next to no time on your sewing machine. A few yards of inexpensive muslin, bright scraps from your rag - bag and a little imagination will do the trick. Sewing experts have worked out the following directions:

TO MAKE THE breakfast mats, with a gay tulip applique, cut four pieces of fabric 14 by 20 inches, to allow a one - inch hem all around. Measuring carefully, press hems. Use the blind stitch attachment of your machine to hem the mats neatly and quickly.

The tulips and pots are of bright red cotton; the center leaf is dark green and the two smaller leaves are green-and-white checked gingham. This color arrangement may be varied according to the available material in your scrap-bag, but good balance is achieved by having the darkest color for the center leaf, with the flower and pot in a different solid shade.

Trace parts carefully on paper, and cut for all place mats at once. Baste the checked side leaves in position, then the stem. The flower covers the end of the stem; the center leaf covers the other end of the stem and the ends of the side leaves, and the pot is basted last to cover the ends of all the leaves. Work around the outline of each section with the zigzag attachment for your sewing machine, trimming away any excess fabric with a small, sharp pair of scissors.

TO MAKE THE CURTAINS, measure your window carefully. Allow 6 inches extra in length—3 for the top hem and 3 for the bottom— and 4 inches extra along the sides for 2 inch side hems. Cut your curtains to the final measurement.

Use your blind stitch attachment to put a hem in the bottom and along the sides. For the top, press in a 2¼-inch hem and stitch, allowing a 2¼-inch turnover. Run another line of stitching 1 inch from the top for the curtain rod slot. The extra inch above will give a perky top ruffle.

Applique tulips as on the place mats. The tulips on the curtains will be half again as large as those used on the mats. In this case, the mat applique measures 7 inches high; the curtain applique 10 inches high.

There are many appliques appropriate for breakfast mats. Among these are skillets with ham and eggs, coffee cups, wooden spoons, and many others. Use your imagination to make unusual breakfast settings. You'll find that the grin from the face on the other side of the paper is worth the effort

HAPPY BREAKFASTS! Gay muslin mats and matching curtains with tulip applique are easy to make at home.

Prison Study Shows Murderers Make Good Risks for Paroles

By United Press

Murderers and sex offenders make the best parole risks, according to the first major study of parolees ever completed in the United States.

The study was made of 8,954 men paroled during a four - year period, 1946-1949, from California prisons.

The statistical review showed that 17.3 per cent of all murderers paroled violated parole, while 32.9 per cent of sex offenders returned to prison. Only 2.5 per cent of the murderers and 6.2 per cent of the sex offenders paroled committed new felonies. The rest are deemed violators through "technicalities" such as failing to report to a parole supervisor, leaving the state, or found carrying a gun.

The real habitual criminals, according to the report, are those convicted of "annoying" but "not dangerous" offenses, and whose crime requires a specialist's technique. Auto thieves are bad risks. A total of 65.2 per cent of them return to prison after being paroled. More than 64 per cent of the forgers return to prison, and half that number on charges of — you guessed it—forgery.

Other facts learned from the four-year study:

There is no significant difference in violation rates among different racial groups.

Parolees with no prior criminal record showed a low violation rate, and 54.6 per cent of all men released on parole for the first time made good in society.

The younger the parolee the greater the chance of his return to prison. A total of 56.2 per cent of parolees aged 25 to 29 returned to prison while only 30.8 per cent of those who were 55 years old or more violated parole.

The smarter the criminal the less chance of parole violation, although the percentage of difference is small. A total of 44.4 per cent of those whose intelligence tested "superior" returned as violators. As the intelligence quotient went down, the percentage of returnees rose to 50.4 per cent.

Advocates of the parole system see great hope in the fact that the rate of violators is getting smaller each year. The report shows 50.8 per cent of all parolees failed in society in 1946.

Marion Jaycees To Distribute Auto Bumper Safety Stickers

Distribution of some 1,000 bumper stickers reading "Make Courtesy Your Code of the Road" will be made to area motorists tomorrow by the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce.

William Flack, president of the Jaycees, said the stickers will be given away between 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. Saturday just south of the police station on the west side of Orchard St. between Holmes Pl. and W. Church St.

While the supply lasts any driver may obtain one of the small black and greenish stickers by driving to the distribution area.

The stickers were the idea of the National Safety Council and two other highway safety groups — the Inter Industry Safety Council and the National Committee for Traffic Safety — and are part of a year-long campaign to make courtesy a highway byword.

The code of the road on courtesy includes the following rules

1. Share the road by driving in the proper lane
2. Allow ample clearance when passing
3. Yield the right of way to other drivers and pedestrians.
4. Give proper signals for turns and stops

Record Program Brightens School Lunch Periods

Plan Started in Holiday Season Retained by Pupils at Baker

A disk jockey show has brightened lunch time at Eber Baker Junior High School while the students wait for completion of a kitchen and dining room.

Every Wednesday, during the three 25-minute lunch periods in west study hall, the latest in popular records are heard. Gary Sanders, a ninth-grader, handles the show.

THE "D-J" SHOW got started last December when Sanders played Christmas records. The show was so well received by Eber Baker's 520 students that it was made a regular weekly feature.

Two plans for selecting the records were tried and discarded before the present method was adopted. The "hit parade" and "request" ideas were dropped since the same students voted for the same songs each week.

NOW A STUDENT council committee chooses the records upon recommendations from students. Miss Helen May, student council faculty adviser, is in charge of the program.

The students enjoy eating their home-packed lunches to the latest popular hits and the show will be carried on until the new dining room is opened, Principal Clark Fouts said. Most students bring their lunches although a few nearby residents go home and some eat at restaurants.

FOUTS ESTIMATES the new lunchroom and kitchen won't be open until next fall. The old gymnasium, on the basement floor, is being renovated into eating facilities while the vocational shop is being transformed into a combination gym and auditorium.

The vocational shop has been moved to Harding High School's new building.

Fouts said cooperation between students, staff and parents during the lunchroom shortage has been excellent.

Business Off Slightly

Florida Tourist Season Good Despite Slow Start

By SAM DAWSON

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Florida's economy today swings like a sensitive needle to point the direction of business in the nation's industrial areas.

Things are a little quieter here. Retail trade is off a little; unemployment is up a little. Tourists aren't spending the way they did last year.

So tightly are Florida's resorts tied to the economy of the industrial North and Midwest that bankers here say this state can act as a seismograph to record a shift in the nation's business sentiment.

They make no claim, however, Florida is a barometer to predict how things will go elsewhere. But bankers say there has been a noticable, if slight, change for the better this month, after a rough time at the start of the year.

Tourists are staying longer this season—perhaps because of later Easter and Passover holidays. They're tighter with their money—either because they haven't as much to spend or because they're a little worried about the future trend of their incomes up North.

Some auto dealers here are advertising sizable bargains on higher-priced cars to move out the last of the 1953 models. Used - car dealers here complain—like their counterparts most everywhere.

The Forida State Employment Serive brushes off the moderate rise in unemployment in Miami as "just seasonal" and says employment totals stay high by any standards.

The construction industry goes right along ignoring some warnings that an over-built condition could be shaping up.

"Shucks, we've been called overbuilt every year for seven years now," says one contractor, "and each year we've sold all we built."

Prices of older houses have dropped, however. Cost of building newer ones have been sliced a little, either by production-line methods, or by narrowing profit margins.

Bankers report folk are keeping up their mortgage payments. There are few defaults on loans or repossessions of appliances bought on the instalment plan.

The big beach hotels claim they are full now—after a poor start early in the season. But walk inland a block or so and you'll see vacancy signs on most of the smaller places.

Motels—and they built scads of them last year—are doing well right now, after a distressingly slow early season.

The citrus industry, in the middle of the state, had a shakeup the first of the year when a bumper crop broke prices and piled up cans of concentrates in warehouses.

But a Lakeland banker says on a telephone interview from the heart of the citrus belt that in the last two weeks the movement of the citrus pack into consumption has been good. Plants are reopening and workers are being called back to take care of the late crop.

Reynolds May Make Good on Missing Funds

Depositors To Meet On Banker's Offer Of 90 Cents on Dollar

CLIO, Ala. (AP)—Clio shook off the worst of its economic hangover today with curiously mixed feelings of anger and sympathy toward the money handler whose recent disappearance disclosed a $75,000 shortage in depositors' funds.

Some of the townspeople who at first were shocked and bitter at Royall Reynolds adopted a new attitude of forgiveness after he returned home and offered to sell everything he owns to help make up the deficit.

May Get Most Back

With the money Reynolds hopes to raise, and the financial sacrifices of his almost blind father and other kinsmen, a spokesman said yesterday that the nearly 200 other depositors in the now-defunct Clio Merchants Exchange probably will get back 85 to 90 cents on the dollar.

A mass meeting has been called for 7:30 tonight to see whether depositors will agree to take a 10 or 15 per cent cut.

The family spokesman, J. S. Jackson Sr., estimated that with the help of relatives, Reynolds should be able to raise all but about $9,000 of the $164,000 on deposit in the privately operated Merchants Exchange.

Depositors outside the family will get the biggest pro rata share, Jackson said. Relatives who had money in the Exchange, including an aunt, Mrs. Vela Mae Reynolds, will take a smaller proportionate share.

Meanwhile, townspeople in this southeast Alabama peanut and cotton farming community of 900 population voiced their reaction with only one restraint — they wouldn't be quoted by name. Only Jackson would talk on the record.

Returns Voluntarily

"Royall came back voluntarily and is doing everything he can to see that these people get their money back," the well-to-do landholder and County Board of Revenue member argued.

"He's stripped himself of everything he has—his home, his car and even his wife's car and his government bonds and what he can borrow on his life insurance. What more can a man do?"

A merchant nearby echoed that feeling in these words:

"We feel sort of like if a fellow comes back and humbles himself like Royall has done, there must be something there."

Both Jackson and the neighboring merchant were heavy depositors in the Exchange.

Anybody who passes a schoolhouse just as the boys are being let out is bound to wonder why it's taken so long for man to run the 4-minute mile.

Crestline Woman Cheers Fellow Blind

Mrs. Haag Helps Others Adjust; Lack of Sight Is No Handicap

CRESTLINE — Teaching the blind to "see" . . . that's her job.

And it's not always an easy job either. So says Crestline's Mrs. Elizabeth Haag, who plunged into a sightless world herself when she was only four years old.

What Mrs. Haag does is to help other blind persons adjust to being suddenly hurtled into darkness. Some of her cases resent her offer of help. Sometimes it's not easy to make them see that they can lead useful lives . . . without sight.

WORKING HOURS are often long and irregular, personal effort extends beyond any set duty line and working conditions are frequently heartbreaking. But it's all a part of being a home teacher for the blind.

Mrs. Haag is one of seven home teachers employed by Ohio's welfare department, Division of Social Administration, to go into the homes of the blind and help them become adjusted. The Crestline woman insists that being blind is not a handicap, that with determination and encouragement the blind can accomplish the seemingly impossible.

SHE SHOULD KNOW, since she has accomplished quite a bit in her young lifetime. She was graduated from the State School for the Blind in Columbus and received a Bachelor of Science degree from Ohio State University. She has been married almost five years to Herbert Haag, who is also blind, and the two have their own home. She is not only a "career woman" but she fills the position of wife and housekeeper, too. And she does it with little difficulty.

She accomplishes such "common" household tasks as cleaning, washing, ironing and sewing . . . without the use of her eyes. She is even able to wash woodwork, since her keen sense of touch enables her to feel the soiled areas. Doing knitting, crocheting and tatting is just tradition for Mrs. Haag. State schools for the blind teach the handicrafts as a matter of course.

Mrs. Haag started out as a home teacher about six years ago. She lived in Elyria at that time and had headquarters in Lorain. Later she moved to Mansfield where she covered a 16-county district. Five years ago she moved to Crestline where she took over an area which covers Marion County and extends to Richland, Franklin and Medina Counties.

KNITTING IS NO SPECIAL FEAT for Mrs. Elizabeth Haag. The young blind woman teaches knitting and many handicrafts to other blind people as a part of her job with the state welfare department's Division of Social Administration.

MR. HAAG IS unemployed now, but he previously did assembling work at the Buckeye Manufacturing Co. here. He occassionally does chair caning.

The Crestline home teacher actually goes into the homes of other blind people during the adjustment period to teach them handicrafts, household tasks and Braille. Often her work day begins at 9 a.m. and doesn't end until 8 pm. Sometimes she stays overnight at a town in the area where she is working.

Lessons in the homes of the blind usually last an hour and occur every two weeks, except in special cases. How long the lessons are continued depends upon the individual. The state home teachers are transported in cars for which drivers are hired. She averages an on-the-job mileage of 12-13,000 miles per year and visits in all types of homes.

"Regardless of race, color or creed, we go in," smiled the young Crestline woman.

ONE OF THE NEWER services for the blind is the "talking book" about which Mrs. Haag is quite enthusiastic. The "book" is actually a phonograph which will play records of readings, etc., for those who are unable to learn Braille. Some, such as former laborers, whose fingers are not sensitive to the Braille system, have no other means of getting reading material. The federal government furnishes the "book" free of charge to those who want it and recordings are loaned from libraries in larger Ohio cities. Information about the talking book can be obtained from E. R. Steece, 513, E. Town St., Columbus.

The dark-haired young woman with the frequent smile seems willing enough to undertake anything. That probably summarizes Mrs. Haag's personality pretty well. It was true even many years ago when she was a youngster. When she was only four years old, one of her playmates poured what he thought was water out of an old can down into her eyes. Later they found the can had contained lye which had dissolved in the water. Within three days, the little girl was sightless.

BUT THE "never say die" attitude remained. It was still a part of the Crestline woman when she had to learn new neighborhoods, by memorizing each crack and raise in the sidewalks; when she familiarized herself with the arrangement of buildings at Ohio State University so she could attend classes; while she studied and prepared for college exams; and when she started out on her first job. It remains now just as much as ever . . . or maybe even a little stronger.

Ohioan Gets Life Term In Los Angeles Murder

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Russell A. Neal, Newcomerstown, Ohio, and Glenn R. Watson, Los Angeles, both soldiers absent without leave, were sentenced yesterday to life imprisonment for the first degree murder of a liquor store owner in a robbery here Nov. 3.

Old-Timer Still Puts Faith in Spring Tonics

NEW YORK — (UP)—Suffering from spring fever? Try sassafras tea or sulphur and molasses. Or sip a cup camomile.

The old-fashioned spring tonics still are going strong in this age of wonder drugs.

And the old-timers will tell you there's nothing like them to combat the traditional spring attack which Webster describes as "the lazy listless feeling which comes to persons with the first warm days of spring."

Some folk pooh-pooh the qualities of the spring potions. But millions especially in the rural areas take them, according to the head of the nation's oldest drug store. Milton S. Taylor of Caswell-Massey says that sulphur and molasses, sassafras, camomile and sarsaparilla are the national favorites. But in some regions, the folks drink brews made from gentian, fennel, burdock, the cone flower, ginseng, and the hydrastis, or golden seal.

Caswell-Massey was opened in Newport, R.I., in 1752, by Dr. William Hunter, a Scottish physician. The store was moved to Manhattan in 1860, but the bow-windowed front of the Newport establishment is embedded in a wall in the Newport Historical Society Museum.

Taylor says there's something to be said for the old-time tonics, both medically and psychologically.

Some have ingredients which modern medicine has adopted.

"Usually," Taylor explained, the scientists find that a particular ingredient in the plant is helpful and use it alone in an easier-to-handle form.

"And there's no doubt the effect of taking something arouses you," Taylor added.

Sarsaparilla is good for adding pep in the spring, Taylor said, but it's in pretty general use the year round.

Camomile tea is both a mild tonic and what medical science calls a carminative — will relieve gas pains.

Sulphur and molasses, the potion known in some parts of New England as the "hold-your-nose-and gulp" tonic, has some effect on the digestive system. And the molasses is believed by some to be a source of iron.

"Although you probably could chew iron filings and get the same result," Taylor said.

Some groceries in the South sell sassafras roots, but if you live near a woodland you can dig your own.

Boil the roots in water for about three minutes, or until the brew is reddish-brown. Drink the results straight or with cream and sugar.

Taylor said he's not sure whether the tea has any medical value "but it tastes good."

Old timers contend though that sassafras "will thin your blood and give you energy."

As one of its advocates said:

"Sassafras tea takes the sap out of the tree and puts it into you."

FORMER POLICE CHIEF DIES

NEW LONDON, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Monroe H. Rhodes, 87, a former police chief. Rhodes died Wednesday at New London Hospital where he had been since he broke his hip in a fall last January.

Girl Scouts Begin Annual Cookie Sale

THE ANNUAL GIRL SCOUT cookie sale gets under way in Marion and Morrow Counties today with some 900 Girl Scouts taking part in the project. Ten thousand boxes of the sweets are on hand for the sale which ends April 5. The sale is sponsored by the Marion-Morrow County Girl Scout Council.

Sharing the first purchase in the sale with Miss Ruth Kramer, president of the Marion-Morrow County Girl Scout Council are Brownie Scout Connie Uncapher, a member of Troop 15 at the Pearl Street School, (left) and Susie Roberts, Intermediate Scout and a member of Troop 21 at Eber Baker Junior High School, (right). Scouts in the two counties have 10,000 boxes of cookies on hand.

Proceeds of the sale will be used to carry on troop programs and for the camp development fund.

Under the plan inaugurated this year neighborhood centers have been set up and the Scouts can pick up their cookies from the homes of captains throughout the city and county, instead of at one central point. Centers established by schools and the neighborhood captains are: George Washington and Vernon, Mrs. William Collins; Pearl Street, Mrs. Leonard Young; Eber Baker, Mrs. R. E. Vande Water; Taft and St. Mary, Mrs. Philip Mounts; Glenwood, Mrs. Gerald Persinger; Oakland, Mrs. William Dudley; Oak, Silver and Mark, Mrs. Clyde Tumbleson; Green Camp, Mrs. Earl Manter; Prospect, Mrs. Robert Gray; LaRue, Mrs. Joseph Brashear; Mount Gilead, city, Mrs. William Woodward; Morrow County, Mrs. Ed. Jolley.

Senior Girl Scouts will be on hand at the cookie booth set up in Uhler's store Friday evening and through Saturday.

Senior, Intermediate and Brownie Scouts are taking part in the sale. Brownies are asked to confine their sales to their families, relatives and close friends. They may be identified either by their Girl Scout uniforms or pins.

BEAVERS HELPED ANGLERS

MONTAUK STATE PARK, Mo. (AP)—Officials here scratched their heads and tried their best to overcome a serious problem. But they found no solution. Gravel had filled in two famous trout pools. When the stymied men were ready to quit, a pair of energetic beavers with know-how did the trick. They built a pair of dams and thereby produced two new pools for the anglers.

Local Cooperative Pays First Refund

Approximately 300 members attended the annual meeting of the Marion Rural Elelctric Cooperative Inc. Thursday night at Morral School.

Reports of the 1953 business year were given and the first capital refund checks, which represent the difference between the amount collected and the actual operation costs for the year, were distributed for 1946. They were the first refund checks to be made by any electric cooperative in Ohio, according to the cooperative's manager, Kenneth Kinsler.

Trustees elected to three-year terms were: Harry Hall and Clyde Hinamon. Other trustees are: Frank Clay, Dale Parsell, F. C. Loyer, Harvey Eichhorn and Homer Kile.

The Marion cooperative serves rural residents in Marion, Union, Wyandot, Hardin and Crawford Counties.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served by the Morral PTA.

Phone Answering Device Gets Customer in Tiff With Ohio Bell

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—A Washington Court House man's fight to prevent the Ohio Bell Telephone Co from discontinuing his service because he bought and installed a telephone answering device reached the state utilities commission today

Tom G. Murray, who operates the Murray Vending Machine and Mfg. Co from his home at Rt 5, Washington Court House, asked the commission to decide whether using the device is cause for discontinuing telephone service.

Murray paid $400 for the Tele Magnet Electro Mechanical Telephone Answering Device which he instal'ed March 1, 1953. Ohio Bell has its own device which it rents on a monthly basis, and Murray said the company insists he rent one.

He also said that for eight months the company threatened to disconnect his telephone The telephone was disconnected Nov 2 but service was restored when Murray went to court

Judge John Case of Fayette County Common Pleas Court ordered the phone restored and March 9 extended his order on the condition Murray take his case to the state utilities commission within 60 days Case is a former assistant attorney general who was assigned to the state utilities commission

Murray asks a "full and complete investigation" by the commission's technical staff of the answering device He says it has not interfered with anyone else s telephone service

Murray says the nature of his business makes it necessary for him to be away from home much of the time and the answering device operates 24 hours a day In one two-day period he said, he received 18 messages

The device lifts the telephone receiver when the phone rings and plays a recording advising the caller Murray is out and asking him to leave his name and address with a message It records the message so Murray can hear it later on.

Job Crisis Still Spotty

It is one of the handicaps of the presidency that every statement from the White House is distorted by over-emphasis.

President Eisenhower's efforts to minimize alarm over unemployment are examples of this. When he says, as he did in his latest press conference, that so far there is no need for an emergency program his declaration is automatically and inevitably misunderstood by all of the unemployed.

To them, the emergency is immediate and personal. Any remark by any public official which seems to belittle their problem seems to be ill-chosen.

Yet the fact is that President Eisenhower must make a hard decision. If he were to start talking, for political reasons, about everything his administration was willing to do for the unemployed, the immediate impact of his statement would be to deepen and worsen unemployment.

If he were to say — again for political reasons — that there is nothing to be alarmed about, his statement would have the same bad effect. It is his job to keep things on an even keel, not to play politics.

It is only the office - seekers of the opposition party in a situation like this who are free to talk irresponsibly. They and their backers are doing everything they can do to make it appear conditions are at the crisis stage and the country must be rescued forthwith by the same people who never did learn how to step up employment from 1933 on, until World War II and the Korean war took up the slack.

The job crisis is still spotty. The Eisenhower administration is still justified in believing the only sensible thing to do after 14 years of war booming is to sweat out as nearly a natural readjustment as possible.

If it cannot be done this way, it can't be done short of either a wholesale revival of public works or a wholesale revival of war. The Eisenhower administration is committed to the belief that America has some higher destiny than either the eternal dole or eternal war.

'Burnt Children'

It is no surprise that anti - American agitators in Japan are reported to be making the most of injury done to Japanese fishermen by the recent H-bomb explosion in the Pacific.

The Japanese are the "burnt children" of the atomic era.

The first atomic bomb used in warfare was dropped on Hiroshima. It killed 78,150 Japanese, injured 37,425 and left no trace of 13,083.

The second atomic bomb was dropped on Nagasaki. It killed 73,884 Japanese outright —and removed all doubt in official minds in Tokyo that the United States had come into possession of a weapon too powerful to resist.

That weapon, however, was crude and primitive compared with the H - bomb, or even with the more powerful A-bombs now possessed by the United States. The Japanese are the only people who need no special urging to realize that the human race can be blown into oblivion by a force of its own creation.

When even humble fishermen in peacetime can be burned by an atomic explosion so far away they didn't know they were in the danger zone, the Japanese cannot be blamed if some of their political agitators ask why Japan has been singled out for persecution.

Elyria Raises a Question

The Ohio Supreme Court eventually would have had to rule on a question similar to the one raised by Elyria's resistance to the Ohio Turnpike Commission.

The question is whether or not this commission has an unchallengeable right to use its eminent-domain authority to take what it wants from every division of government it encounters.

There will continue to be many Ohioans— many of them turnpike-minded— who will contend the Turnpike Commission's authority to put down a superhighway wherever it pleases is limited by its nature as a money - making organization.

The Elyria case is a matter of principle for the commission, which is anxious to avert future litigation of the same nature. But it is no less a matter of principle for the city of Elyria. Here is the city's position:

The area which the Ohio Turnpike Commission claims the right to seize inside Elyria's municipal limits is covered by a plan of urban development. No city in Ohio is safe from what Elyria contends is a misuse of the right of eminent domain if future superhighways can be laid down by the commission without consent of governing bodies. Since these highways are privately financed and built for revenue, unlimited use of the Turnpike Commission's eminent-domain authority is not justified by the public good.

The Ohio Supreme Court eventually would have had to settle what it is being asked to settle now—the question of whether or not an Ohio community has rights superior to those of a commission which may decide to build a road through the community's territory.

Left-Wingers Jubilant

By David Lawrence

Plot To Squelch Anti-Red Drive Succeeding

The "left wing" has achieved a number of significant victories in Washington in the last two weeks —the most notable of which has been to bring influence to bear on President Eisenhower to use the headline power of his press conferences to carry on an open war with Sen. McCarthy, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on permanent investigations.

Elated by this victory, the "left wing" is setting out now to get the scalps of Rep. Velde chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and Sen. Jenner, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on internal security. After that will come broadside attacks on the FBI in general and J. Edgar Hoover in particular.

Already articles are appearing in magazines of leftish tendency, written by well-known anti-McCarthy agitators, which are disparaging the work of the FBI and casting doubt on the validity of its system of reports.

The Senate subcommittee on permanent investigations has, of course, been stopped in its tracks. The Republicans Senators Mundt, Dirksen and Potter—have been stampeded into voting to suspend all investigations despite the fact that there still are 100 Communists in defense plants which the committee, by arrangement with companies doing defense work, has been weeding out concurrently as the committee exposed them.

WHAT STIMULATES the "left wingers" to greater effort is the discovery that the Republicans in Congress can be easily driven to the defensive and will not work together in resisting attack. The behavior of Eisenhower administration officials in the dispute between the office of the secretary of the Army and the McCarthy committee has revealed a lack of team-play all around.

The "left wingers" in the White House coterie—and they comprise some "world government" advocates who think they are fighting "isolationism" when they fight McCarthy, and some so - called "liberals" who have been egging the President on to come out into the open against the Wisconsin senator—are clumsy, however, in their tactics. Thus the reporters were authorized to quote the President directly when he said on Wednesday that he doesn't think a senator should sit in judgment on his own case in the Senate, but the White House failed, in fairness to the Wisconsin senator, to point out in its authorized statement that he had already announced several days before that he didn't intend to vote on the issues before his committee.

The mixup in handling the report prepared by the office of the secretary of the Army on the dispute between legal counsel John G. Adams at the Pentagon and the staff of the McCarthy committee is another example of lack of team-play. This correspondent said earlier this week that 14 Democrats and one Republican had clandestinely received this report from the Pentagon in advance of the chairman of the committee.

THIS WAS NOT correct so far as the Democrats were concerned. The facts are these:

1. Only one Republican — Sen. Potter—received the report ahead of his colleagues in the Senate, and that was one day in advance—namely, on Wednesday, March 10.

2. McCarthy had lunched that day with Secretary of Defense Wilson, who mentioned that Potter had the report. The Wisconsin senator promptly went to Potter and asked to see it. He was permitted to read it.

3. McCarthy then phoned Assistant Secretary of Defense Fred Seaton that the document was one-sided and that he had in his files a lot of data on the other side and that he thought the memoranda he had should be considered in the interest of fair play before anything was published. Seaton is reported to have replied that the matter had gone beyond his hands. The report was "leaked" to the press the next day (Thursday) at about the same time copies were received by most of the senators.

4. Sen. McClellan phoned the Defense Department early on Thursday, March 11, saying he had heard of the report and that, since he originally had made some inquiries on the subject himself, he felt he should have a copy of it. He told this correspondent on Tuesday of this week that the Defense Department had replied to him that he should have received it the day before— Wednesday, March 11, several copies of the report dated the same day were sent to Democrats and Republicans alike on Capitol Hill and on Friday to several more members of Congress.

THE DOCUMENT had been mimeographed for wide distribution in disregard of the fact that the matter concerned primarily the chairman of a Senate committee to whom the report should have gone in the first place—that is, if regular procedure were followed.

Just why Potter was given the report in advance of all other senators was not explained to the chairman of the subcommittee, McCarthy. The McCarthy people are saying that since Lewis Berry, one of Potter's campaign managers, was given, at the request of Potter, the post of assistant to John G. Adams, legal counsel of the Army, early in January at a salary of $12,000 a year, the Michigan senator has become a partisan of the office of the secretary of the Army in the course of the inquiry on Army affairs and an opponent of the chairman of the Senate subcommittee of which he is a member. Potter's friends deny it.

This is the kind of thing that one hears on Capitol Hill these days. While the Republicans quarrel and bicker, the "left wing" rides triumphantly on towards its ultimate goal — the squelching hereafter of all anti-Communist crusading by the administration.

Feelin' Kinda Low

Shoemaker-Evangelist Pegs for Peace

By Lawrence M. Hughes

WAYNESVILLE, N. C., is a thriving town, but Heinz Walter Rollman's "World Construction, Inc., is getting too big for it.

In the last year, Rollman, with the slogan "Mankind Is My Business" and through the organization he launched at a meeting of the Waynesville Lions Club in December, 1952, has invested $50,000 in world peace and development. Right now, he is on a globe-girdling, four-month, 52-stop trip to every continent except Europe, talking world construction to the peoples of 40 countries and colonies.

Last December, Rollman sent a 13-point, goodwill Christmas message, translated into 85 languages and dialects, to 8,000 newspapers and 5,000 radio stations—including many behind the Iron Curtain. He and his staff speak and write English, French, German, Spanish, Portuguese and Polish.

The other 79 languages were translated at embassies and ministries in Washington. The stencils were cut there and returned for printing and distribution by World Construction.

A SHOEMAKER turned evangelist, Rollman calls his movement "A new, practical religion." As recently reported in the Congressional Record by Rep. Shuford its objectives are:

"1. To stop the spread of Communism among the underprivileged by proving, with action that America stands ready to help them lift themselves out of their misery and poverty.

"2. To insure our own continued prosperity by creating purchasing power abroad," and

"3. To do our duty to the creator by actually living" with the people of other nations "according to the Golden Rule."

In this country Rollman would have a "peace army" of 3,000,000 mobilized to bring American civilians skills and "know-how" to people abroad.

During three - year service in this "army" each member would teach groups of about 200 persons. Their subjects would be not only specific industrial and agricultural techniques but those that reflect Americas "democratic way of life.

At the same time 5,000,000 foreign students would be brought here annually for instruction in skills and democracy, which they would teach others in their home lands.

ROLLMAN WOULD enlist members in the "peace army" largely among Americans who have been "arbitrarily retired because of age and other factors." He explains, 'the main object will be to teach, not to perform actual work. An active mind and a wealth of practical experience will be of more value than mere youthful strength."

For years he has sought to bring his ideas and program before Congress and the cabinet.

He is convinced that the "first strong impetus" for world construction must come from "A popular movement among the American people." Also, it should be fostered, not as "part of a partisan political platform, but as a universal desire to do our duty as a free nation."

Meanwhile, Rollman has set out to persuade the peoples of many other countries to get their governments behind world construction.

Now 42 years old, he first conceived the outline of this plan as a youth of 16 in his native Germany. All people, he then decided, are alike in wanting: "A full stomach, to stay out of the rain when it rains, and a chance to keep their minds up as free men."

FROM HIS FATHER he inherited control of a prosperous shoemaking business. Hitler appropriated the German factories and forced him into exile. He began anew in America, but not until after World War II could he get the natural rubber which is a basic ingredient of his shoe business.

In the last six years his international shoemaking licensing company, Ro-Search, Inc., has signed companies in 40 countries. All are independent, native businesses—to which he contributes use of patents, "know-how," and economic democracy.

Under one part of the program, the sons of licensees in one country live and study with licensees in another. The visitors learn not only about native shoemaking and markets but about the other country's way of life.

The $50,000 Rollman put into World Construction last year went for such purposes as distribution of 10,000 copies of his plan for world construction, for bulletins and newsletters, travel and speeches, newspaper and magazine publicity, and an audience-participation quiz program over radio station WHCC here, called "The World Around Us."

Among other things, Rollman is trying to get national advertisers to tie in their soap and cigarette copy to "Peace on earth by applying the Golden Rule."

Ugliness Pays

By TRUMAN TWILL

Hal Boyle wrote such a fine apology for homely women the other day that I feel justified in taking up the case for homely men. Boyle only mentioned in passing how lucky we are.

Homely men, he admitted, must work a little harder than ordinary to call favorable attention to themselves, and this explains why so many of us turn out to be more charming and successful than our better-looking brothers.

Which brings us to Liberace — Wladziu Valentino Liberace — no less.

Here is a fellow who is working like a dog to live down the handicap of a face that reminds every other man in the country of some kid he once punched in the eye or wanted to and makes every female past the age of discretion want to purse her lips in womanly disapproval.

Where any normally ugly man could make a living banging out simple melodies on a living-room size piano, this Liberace has to beat his brains out on that big brute of a concert grand piano to stay in business.

Not only that, he must live in uncomfortable awareness of more jokes being told about him than have been told about anything since Henry Ford discovered how to become a multi-millionaire by making Tin Lizzies.

As Liberace is reported to have said to a columnist who made some cutting remarks about his abilities as an entertainer, "My brother George and I laughed all the way to the bank about what you said."

But he is making his money the hard way.

The cards have been stacked against him because he is not ugly. There hasn't been a throb-boy in the great collar-ad tradition since the late John Barrymore finally became so care-worn he didn't even have a good side of his profile left to turn to the camera.

The knowledgeable women of this republic want their men ugly —even a shade repulsive. Most of them are getting what their hearts desire.

A really handsome man is in real danger of getting passed by these days because the premium is on ugliness. There is a good reason.

It is not because women dislike beauty in males. It is because women prefer to stake out their claim on territory which will not attract trespassers the way a sugar pie attracts flies.

They are being selfish when they throw in their lot with the boys that God forgot. All things being equal, they can rely on an almost total absence of eyelid fluttering in the direction of their dream boys if they're closer to nightmares than princelings.

Look them over — the dream boys. They are a dreary lot. Not a Liberace in a thousand. Just happy-go-lucky blokes getting by on their absence of looks — chappies who can thank their dog faces they don't have to work their fingers to the bone beating out schmaltz on concert grand pianos by candlelight to get attention in this unloving world.

If anyone is sending a CARE package to poor Wladziu, be sure to put in a little mirror so he can look at himself and bust out crying.

Evidence for Deaf Ears

By MARK DANA

An insurance company joins in the statistical argument about women as car drivers by adding up the number of women drivers on whom it has paid damage claims and coming up with some delightful figures, the integer kind.

True, it did its current computations on the basis of occupations, and set down "housewives" as one of them obviously all-feminine Housewives rank 28th in the top-quality categories of good drivers, it seems, happily leading auto salesmen (32nd), truck drivers (43rd) and clergymen (55th).

Teachers as a whole (a group including many women) were near the peak of perfection, in seventh place. Military personnel were worst drivers (64th place), insurance agents were 53rd, doctors were 39th, lawyers were 50th, and the "occupation" of students was in 62nd place, just about at the foot of the class.

Husbands, cartoonists and incurable joke-makers will not perceive in this summary by vocations any warranty for finding their fun themes elsewhere. A great many statistical compilations of figurative conception, long ere now have "proven" that fewer women have car mishaps, or women have fewer mishaps, or something like that, but, drat it all, the men refuse to accept anything remaining on its face value, hence face facts.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Word From a Pilgrim

The free world is still groggy over that speech by Sir Gladwyn Jebb at the London Pilgrims' Dinner urging that Communist China be taken into the United Nations "in she purges herself of aggressive actions." The Red Chinese have never shown the slightest inclination toward any self-purging, but they are hot for admittance to U. N. and Mao Tse-tung may be working right now on a letter to Sir Gladwyn.

Dear Sir: I have heard your suggestion that Red China purge itself of aggression and, as the important thing with me is to get into the U. N., I take my pen in hand to admit I have been a bad boy and am willing to confess it, at least while the membership vote is being taken.

It was the old volunteer complex. Whenever I get the urge to volunteer to step into somebody's war everything goes black. I mean no harm and would not harm a fly. (In fact, the flies in U. N. would feel safer with me around.)

I would not want anybody, especially in U. N., to suspect me of causing trouble anywhere as I am anxious to be voted into the club and would like to be accepted fast, as I have always wanted to visit Switzerland and see how a rickshaw acts on the Alpine hobsled curves.

It hurts me to think I am distracted and would do a thing like going into the Korean War deliberately. I don't know what came over me but I remember eating some raw fish the night before and it could have been something I ate. Also my shoes pinched, the bad weather upset me and I was jumpy from not sleeping well at night. (I tried counting sheep but somehow got to counting bears.)

In addition to all this, there was a leak in the roof. I had trouble with the heating system and moths got into my clothes closet around that time and upset me so much I did not know just what I was doing.

You have no idea how surprised I was to find myself in that Korean War. In fact, you could have knocked me over with a plate of birds' nest soup. (I hope you will not think this is strictly for the birds' nest soup, as the saying goes.)

I have intended to take up with Russia how I got into the Korean War, but have been awful busy and it keeps slipping my mind. If I find out I will let you and the U. N. committee on new members know.

We Pilgrims have got to hang together, Sir Gladwyn, Mr. Malenkov and I have been Pilgrims for years and, as the whole world knows, Josef Stalin was such a well-known Pilgrim that he was often called "Pilly" for short.

Well, like you and Dag Hammarskjold say, we must all find a way to get along together on account of this is a world in which almost everybody is on the loose with new rules, a monkey wrench, a propaganda director and the hidden ball.

I trust you will accept this letter as a complete purge of all aggressive ideas and any inclination toward trouble-making. I never felt so lamb-like in my life. Oh, to be in Geneva, now that spring is here!

Yours truly
Mao (Old Purgy-Wurgy)

P.S.—Regards to all the Pilgrims and put me down for Pilgrims' progress.

Robert Foreman, speaking at a national convention of advertising men, says the much critized TV commercials are offensive, irritating and boresome only to columnists, educators and people who write letters to newspapers and are self-constituted "commissars of good taste." . . . "Such advertising," he declares, "represents a corporate personality, a reflection of the businessmen behind the product." . . . Okay, Robert, we take it all back. . . Commercials are a delight, they soothe the nerves, provide Vitamins A B and C, give tone to the body, improve the complexion, perserve the teeth, keep the floors waxed and are a joy to every home, especially when they bust into an exciting TV drama or concert.

Alfred Newman, who does so many musical arrangements for the movies, has been doing it for over a quarter of a century, and his name stands high among the wondermen of Hollywood. . . We remember when he was a boy violinist and his parents brought him to The Register back home for a demonstration of his talents, expressing the hope he had a future! ! !

Scout Show Set Sunday

THE AUTHENTIC INDIAN costumes worn by Ted Pollock, 17, of 682 Wood St., (left) and Dick Bolinger, 18, of 905 Cheney Ave., will be just one of the 42 live demonstrations and displays at the Boy Scout Wali-ga-zhu Sunday at the Coliseum. Ted is an eastern forest Indian chief and Dick is dressed as a Plains Indian medicine man. They made the costumes themselves and are performing an authenic tribal dance.

The Wali-ga-zhu — a favorite in past years — is expected to be even better this year. There are displays of the 12 laws of scouting, one containing a forest complete with wild animals and a running stream with fish and several charcoal fires where food will be prepared and served. The state civil defense truck will be there, as well as materials sent by the conservation agency. In addition, there will be several little theater acts.

Scout units have been selling tickets for the Wali-ga-zhu for several weeks, besides making preparations for their booths. They are competing for prizes and making a little money for unit activities.

The show begins at 2 p.m. and lasts until 4.

The wedding ceremony was performed in Mrs. Miller's home in suburban Northfield.

Lindbergh'ss parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, and their four younger children came here for the ceremony from their home in Darien, Conn. The bride's father, James P. Robbins, a mining engineer, and her sister and brother also attended the Congregationalist ceremony.

Ohio Wesleyan Ships Books to Japan Students

DELAWARE — Geography and geology students at Ohio Wesleyan University have shipped a ton and a half of American textbooks to Japan so that Japanese students won't have to be so dependent on Russian-subsidized "Party line" volumes.

The books were collected during February in a campaign which had as its slogan, "Let's throw the books at 'em." Some Denison University students even drove over from Granville one day to contribute books to the OWU campaign.

A letter from Dr. Shannon McCune of Colgate, who is now visiting professor at the University of Tokyo, spurred the Ohio Wesleyan students to action.

Dr. McCune's letter stated that Russian - subisized texts were selling at about 15 times less than American books and that the Japanese students, buying the former because they were so much cheaper, "May be absorbing the propaganda along with the information."

Three Ohio Wesleyan fraternities, Phi Gamma Delta, Beta Theta Pi and Delta Tau Delta, contributed money to help pay shipping costs on the ton-and-a-half of books.

Dr. G. Winston Sinclair, chairman of the geology department, who worked with the students on the campaign, said, "We're very grateful to all who aided in the project."

Grocery Bill Near $9 Million

State Purchasing Agent Finds Food Buying Hard

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — Housewives harrassed by shifting food prices can sympathize with John W Bush of Portsmouth He runs up Ohio's biggest grocery bill

Bush is state purchasing agent In that capacity he buys enough to feed 5 000 employes and 45 000 inmates of state penal and mental institutions He expects to spend $8 900 000 this year for food and $9 400 000 next year

Coffee isn't the only thing on the increase Bush reports He says the price of most processed food again has turned up But meat potatoes milk sugar and eggs cost less than a year ago

Bush is in his sixth year of shopping with a box car instead of a market basket As president of the National Assn of State Purchasing Officials Bush recently offered President Eisenhower help in investigating coffee prices that the Ohioan hinted might be rigged

SHERMAN ADAMS the President's assistant thanked Bush this week Adams said the Federal Trade Commission is looking for violations and the Department of Justice checking market practices of the cocoa and chocolate industry

Bush is in Chicago today where the executive committee of the purchasing agents association is studying price problems

With the state using a million pounds of coffee a year Bush said the cost already has passed $1 a pound and still is rising Ohio buys its coffee green and does its own roasting and blending

Although the state buys in quantity at less than retail prices Bush gave these examples of major purchase prices

Tea that cost 42 cents a pound a year ago now is 69 cents Ohio uses some 65 000 pounds annually Cocoa 32 cents a pound last year now is 35 cents Ohio buys 50 000 pounds a year.

DRY NAVY BEANS cost $9 25 a hundred pounds a year ago and $8 55 six months ago Now they cost $9 11

Some canned food prices dropped six months ago below prices of last year but now are on the increase Examples are canned peaches apricots and spinach

Canned corn is higher than a year ago The price of canned pineapple shows a slight drop from both a year ago and six months ago

Carcass beef that cost $29 10 a hundred pounds last year now costs $22 43 Fluid milk is down from 48 cents a gallon to just under 45 cents Potatoes that cost $2 42 a hundred last year now are down to $1 54

Eggs cost $14 69 for a 30-dozen case a year ago They rose to $17 82 6 months ago Now they are $14 67.

THE STATE buys about 400 000 pounds of various kinds of meat a month The March meat bill will be $136 000 Bush estimates The state also gets an average of 185 000 pounds of meat a month from federal surplus stocks

Ohio buys 90 000 gallons of fresh milk a month and gets 21 000 pounds of surplus dried milk Egg purchases run 80 000 dozen a month

Carload purchases clear through the state warehouse in Columbus that expects to handle 18 million pounds of food this year Smaller purchases go direct to institutions

The state's 18 000 acres of farms produce an additional 4 million dollars worth of food annually And Ohio gets another 2 million dollars worth of surplus food from the federal government for mental institutions only Bush estimated
